Sue HOD for future pollution

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Village of Antioch's lawsuit against Waste Management, Inc., concerning the collection of possible future damages if Antioch's aquifer should be contaminated by the closed HOD Landfill, is set to go to court on June 4.

The closing of the landfill in the mid-

1980s, owned by the world's largest refuse company and located next to the high school's football field near the water tower, cost the Village of Antioch $100,000 in legal fees.

The landfill now appears on the State of Illinois Superfund list because of alleged hazardous waste being dumped there by generators such as Johnson Motors, who used it for 18 years.

The state has already spent $5 million on monitoring wells around the landfill. These monitors have shown zinc contamination.

Waste Management claims that this comes from the zinc lining of the wells.

Owners and generators of landfills on the Superfund list are being called upon to clean-up the landfill sites at their own expense

Waste Management and generators such as Johnson Motors are expected to present a "remedial" plan to the United States Environmental Protection Agency concerning the possible evidence of hazardous waste at the Antioch site.

Dist. 34, Emmons meet, merging up to Emmons

With consolidation talks between school board representatives and the superintendents of Emmons Grade School and the Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 having taken place, Dist. 34 Supt. Donald Skidmore reported to the Dist. 34 Board of Education on the Illinois State Board of Education's four financial incentives for consolidating the two school districts.

These incentives include $4,000 for full-time equivalent teacher for three years; equalized debt, one at a time (neither school has a debt), and the advance of the greater amount of state aid for three years, meaning that the state would calculate aid for the separate districts and the consolidated district and the consolidated school district would receive the greater amounts for three years.

The state would estimate the difference in staff salaries for both districts and pay for equalization of salaries.

The decision on whether to consolidate or go back for another expansion referendum is now up to the Emmons School Board.

Plan for new annexation discussed

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

After getting a report from Planning Resources on a study of newly annexed 1,500 acres, located east of Deep Lake Rd., bounded by the Red Wing Marsh area in the township, the Antioch Village Board and planning commission will visit the area to look it over.

At a committee meeting held this week, the board discussed various plans for lot size requirements, ranging from three-quarters of an acre on up.

According to Planning Resources' recommendation, 32 homes can be built on 40 acres of property, leaving eight acres of open space.

Future zoning and certain buffer zone size requirements were also discussed.

Trustee Mabel Lou Weber was concerned about keeping size and price requirements down. "I'm concerned that my children may not be able to buy a home in the Antioch area," she said.

Stormwater plans make county one big, happy family

by PAM NASLUND
Lakeland Newspapers

Cooperation between village, township and county governments, plus involvement by the public and private sectors is coming together in an unprecedented first in the six-county northern Illinois area. The comprehensive Stormwater Management Plan for Lake County is set to be presented for approval by the Lake County Board either this month or next.

Richard Welton, mayor of Gurnee and the committee's chairman said, "The plan will not only be a first in Illinois, but a first in the country" to account for so many elements involved in water management across an entire county.

The detailed administrative structure has been completed and needs only bodies to fill the spaces on the organization chart. The process of screening for a director and a supervising engineer are underway. Much of the work of administering and enforcing the plan will be at local levels using staff already in place.

Carroll Schaal, a senior planner for Lake County, reported the technical manual needed to support the proposed ordinance has been submitted for "peer review" to village engineers, professional groups such as the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers, and appropriate government agencies, including the Illinois EPA and Northern Illinois Planning Commission. The technical manual and draft ordinance should be ready for public hearings by May, looking toward a June or July approval.

When asked if any resistance to the plan is expected, Mayor Welton replied, "I don't see any major resistance because we have worked really hard to see that the legislation is equitable." Lake County citizens, units of government and private engineering consultants deserve at least a pat on the back for the lack of contention such an involved plan could engender.

Jim Soyka, engineer for the Village of Deerfield, said that since Deerfield is "98 to 99 percent developed," the impact of the plan in Deerfield will be minimal. Communities which can expect considerable development also hail the plan. Carl

Schrimpf, mayor of Round Lake Beach said, "We're not on the Des Plaines River, but we have to worry about water coming from developments to the north." His community supports the plan, but Mayor Schrimpf does not expect much change in the village's approach to development. "In 1974," he said, "we hired H.W. Lockner Corp., considered one of the best in this sort of thing, and we identified 21 flood prone areas. All of those areas, except three, have been corrected."

Craig Malin, assistant manager for Vernon Hills said, "the (village) board endorsed the plan immediately" when it was presented. Vernon Hills recently passed a flood plain ordinance. Does he expect negative reaction from the development community? "No, they just want to know what the rules are."

Increasing public awareness of the function of natural systems to help manage excessive rainfall has also led to general support for including wetlands controls into the overall plan. Lake County possesses a high proportion of wetlands and prevailing attitudes center on letting nature do the work for us when we can.

For the moment, Lake County is one big happy family when it comes to stormwater plans. But, as Deerfield Engineer Jim Soyka said, "So far, it hasn't cost anybody any money." The plan will cost money, but if the $8 million cost range estimate in the plan is even close, it will be less than the $35 million in damages from the last flood along the Des Plaines River.

SMPC BUDGET DISTRIBUTION

The cost of the plan will be shared by watershed with the SMPC portion covering county-wide staff and administrative costs.

Balen receives Payne warning after apologizing

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Lake County black clergy received an apology but no resignation from Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. board member John Balen.

Members of the North Shore Ministers Fellowship crowded the audience at the Lake County Forest Preserve meeting Friday, and Rev. T.N. Lightfoot asked for Balen's resignation.

"If anyone on this board thinks I will resign; they have another thing coming," Balen said.

Balen, whose brother Matthew watched the meeting from the audience, was criticized by the black clergymen for an allegedly racial slur he spoke during a closed meeting of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.'s land acquisition committee.

"We do not condone racial discrimination in any form," Forest Preserve President C. Richard Anderson said in a prepared statement.

Balen said he has received many phone calls of support since the alleged statement Feb. 9, including those from black people of his largely black Dist. 2 county board district. "I'd like to thank the black people who had the courage to call and give me support," he said.

"Can the Lake County Board do anything about Balen," Fairchild said.

At the close of that portion of the meeting, board rival Robert Neal of Dist. 3 called for the censure of Balen and his resignation. Afterward, Fairchild said he would not comment on the politics of the matter.

Balen blasted the way the media handled the situation. "They are not concerned about the consequences; only the story," he said.

Balen outlined how he helped several minorities through his more than 20 years on the board. Balen is not seeking re-election this year. This included helping some fired Lake County Sheriff Dept. employees gain three years of back pay at a cost of $279,000.

"I have seen many hidden agendas and slurs in 22 years on the board. Some were said, others, not said," Balen commented.

"To err is human; to forgive is divine. I have turned the other cheek many times," Balen, quoting the Bible, said.

Balen said he considered board members Sam Payne of Dist. 3 and Audrey Nixon of Dist. 2, who are black, as his friends.

Most board members did not react to the situation as it was being discussed, but a few offered their views, and one was a clear warning from Payne.

Smith hits regulations, will sell his five acres

A home builder says he will sell five acres of land he owns rather than continue with what he views as run-around from the Lake County planning staff.

"We decided to sell the land last night," Ken Smith said.

Smith appeared before the Lake County Board's Plan and Zoning Committee in Waukegan Monday to discuss his five acres off Town Line Rd. in Waukegan. The land is located in Warren Twp.

At issue is planting of three trees. Committee members said the trees would enhance the value of the property.

Smith said he has been told a right-of-way for a road exists on the property and has been platted but will not be moved. He added he had a contractor all lined up to build the home.

Smith said there are some 260 trees on his property.

"I did everything they asked me to do," Smith said after the meeting.

Dist. 4 hopefuls give answers, tell future plans

Three of the four hopefuls for the Lake County Board gave their pitches and answered questions at the Grayslake Area Chamber of Commerce and Industry luncheon last week.

Meeting at Johnny D's Pier 83 restaurant, Chamber members heard views of Dist. 4 candidates Charlotte Kiesgen, Robert Boness and Charles Johnston during the one-hour presentation. Candidate Larry Leafblad was not at the candidates forum.

"We have to work with the municipalities," Kiesgen said.

Kiesgen, who is teaming her efforts with Johnston, said the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. has given the term open space "the worst name possible" through condemnation.

She said that leads property owners to annex to municipalities in an effort to save the property.

Incumbent Kiesgen said it is important for the county to elect experienced board members, since the term will be for two years before redistricting occurs in 1992.

"Eminent domain powers should be used as a last resort," Boness, a Round Lake Beach resident, said.

Boness, who is teaming with Leafblad in the March 20 GOP primary, said he is concerned about the environment.

He also said he was against "forcing people out" of their homes.

Johnston said the other Republicans can "talk a good game but he and Kiesgen are the two people on the ballot with a record of cooperation."

He said current Dist. 4 Board member Suzi Schmidt is "part of the problem, not part of the solution".

He explained several former opponents at one time are now working on his behalf, including honorary co-chairman State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis. Johnston said he is in favor of ending traffic congestion. "We have to have good roads so a 30 minute drive does not take two hours".

Johnston said he was in favor of the Rte. 53 extension.

Dist. 4 covers all or part of Antioch, Lake Villa, Grant and Avon Twps.

Gesiakowski pleads guilty, asks 30 months probation

Robert Gesiakowski, 40, Antioch Twp., had pled guilty to charges of investment fraud.

Women set luncheon

Antioch Christian Women's Club will hold its meeting on Thursday, March 15 from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. at the Landmark Restaurant located on Rte. 173.

An invitation is being extended to all women who would enjoy a "Hats Off to Hair" luncheon. A special feature demonstration of new hair styles for spring will be given by American Hairlines of Antioch.

Special music guest will be Betsy Meyer. The luncheon will conclude with speaker Joan Tiemon, wife and mother of four from Lincolnshire.

Free nursery care will be available. Those wanting more information and to make reservations can call Renee at (708)395-1281 or Tina at (708)395-4834. Reservations by Friday, March 9 essential.

In a plea bargain made with the states attorney's office, Gesiakowski has pleaded guilty and agreed to repay $96,000 in return for a recommendation for a sentence of 30 months probation.

His home has already been sold for $48,000, which could repay half of the amount due by his sentencing date of April 26 in the court of Lake County.

Associate Judge Henry Tonigan, who accepted his guilty plea.

According to Assistant States Atty. Joe Colina, he will recommend a sentence of five years in prison if the $48,000 is not paid by the sentencing date.

Gesiakowski, who has run four times unsuccessfully for the state senate and assembly, has no previous criminal record.

He has been charged with bilking clients out of investment monies in three non-existent companies and selling interest in stock that was not under his name.

If the judge accepts the states attorney's recommendation for a probationary sentence, Gesiakowski faces probation violation if the remaining $48,000 is not paid within the first six months of the sentence.

He would then face probation revocation and a prison term.

Letter to the Editor

Supporting race track

Editor:

After reading your paper for sometime, I get the feeling the Bi-State Reporter is biased against the proposed auto race track.

I find it amusing that in your Feb. 9 issue the front page states "Gambling good bet for economy" where as in another front page article the mayor of Antioch says he can see "no value to the area" in regards to the auto race track.

In Indianapolis, Ind., (where a similar race track is located) the U.S. National Drag Race Pumps $2.5 to 3 million dollars a day into its economy. I'd say that has a slight effect on the local economy and Antioch can use all the economic help it can get!

Then there is the concern over air pollution from jet cars. That's a joke, three or four jet cars run two or three times a year is hardly going to effect air quality.

As I understand, there will be possibly two or three national events held at the track. These I agree will bring many people to the area. But the balance of their programs will be local programs, in other words, smaller crowds and competitors in number. And no 3,000 hp dragsters (other than national events) will be there on a regular basis.

Those are multi-million dollar racing teams who only compete on the national tour program. That program currently has a 20 race program and each race is in a different state. These people (teams) do not "run for fun," they will not be there every weekend, they have to be where the national events are held in order to compete for their respective championships. Also, the track will be closed almost six months out of the year. The reaction to this thing is so blown out of proportion, it's ridiculous.

I live in Salem and I am in full support of a new race track. Thank goodness its not another shopping mall!

LWV sets candidates forum for Dist. 4 hopefuls

In the interest of presenting the candidates for Lake County Board to the public before the Primary Election on March 20, The League of Women Voters of Lake County and the Lake County Farm Bureau Women's and Legislative Committees are co-sponsoring a Candidates Forum for Dist. 4 of the Lake County Board.

The Forum will be moderated by the League and will follow the format set by the League. The Forum will be held on Wednesday, March 14 at the Brae Loch Golf Course Building, 3360 N. Rte. 45 at 7:30 p.m.

Brae Loch is located on the west side of Rte. 45 between Rte. 120 and Brae Loch Rd.

The audience may ask questions of the candidates by submitting the questions in writing at the beginning of the Forum and will hear the candidates' opinions on the issues facing the County Board such as:

Open space, solid waste, water quality, taxes and budget, impact fees, redistricting and the size of the County Board, transportation, the jail and the Health Dept.

Dist. 4 includes Antioch, Lake Villa, Grant and Avon Twp. The Republican candidates for Dist. 4 are Robert Boness, Charles Johnston, Charlotte Kiesen and Larry Leafblad. The Democratic candidate is Julia Edwards.

Even though these two organizations hold different views, this is a cooperative effort to hold a completely non-partisan, non-biased forum for the benefit of the public.

Corps denies permit for Fox Bay Marina

The Chicago Dist., U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, has denied a permit to Fox Bay Partners, Inc., of McHenry, to perform construction as part of the proposed Fox Bay marina project in McHenry.

Fox Bay Partners proposed placing fill in 1.13 acres of wetland, dredging a backwater adjacent to the Fox River, constructing rip rap or other shore protection, excavating an opening in the River Rd. causeway and installing slips for 512 boats.

Chicago Dist. Engineer Lt. Col. Jess J. Franco said he denied the permit because "the proposed project would contribute to significant degradation of the Fox River and Chain O'Lakes."

Under Clean Water Act guidelines for evaluating permit application, the Corps cannot issue a permit for any project that causes or contribute to significant degradation of "waters of the United States."

Franco said the proposed Fox Bay project would degrade the aquatic environment in the Fox River and Chain O'Lakes because it would increase the number of larger power boats using these waterways, especially during peak periods. In combination with existing boat traffic, the additional power boats would increase resuspension of sediments and turbidity, he said. Turbidity and high levels of suspended solids reduce the diversity of aquatic plant and animal species in a waterway.

Shun police politics

In reference to the article in the Antioch Reporter on Feb. 23 on the subject of the mayor reappointing the police chief, the paper states the meeting, said the under Miller a man was hired as a CSO officer who had failed tests in surrounding departments. He also failed the test under the new Board of Police and Fire and is no longer a member of the department. The article insinuates that Miller has the authority in hiring members of the police department.

The fact is that the police chief cannot hire or fire any member of the police department. This is done solely by the mayor and the village board.

On Nov. 7, 1988, the hiring of this CSO officer in question, was done by a unanimous vote, 6-0, with Trustee Bob Wilton voting

"yes." Minutes of board meetings are available to the public at the village hall.

Once again, let's keep politics out of the police department and leave the job to the professionals.

Since State Statute dictates that a Mayor is chief law enforcement officer of a village, regardless of his police education, qualifications, or background in basic law enforcement...

AND....

Since the newly formed appointed Police Board also is not required to have any education, background, or experience in law enforcement...

WHY...

Are the qualifications of the police chief so important if he's not the chief law enforcement officer of the village?

WHY...

Is it necessary that Chief Miller have more qualifications than he already has, after 12 years of service as police chief?

In the best interest, safety, and well being of the citizens and patrons of Antioch....

AARP Band at GLS

On Monday Feb. 19, I treated myself to a special afternoon. The Antioch Chapter AARP All Stars' Band was on hand at GLS to perform for the kindergarten through eighth grade students, staff, and available parents. I had been hearing how wonderful their program of song and dances was, but I was never at the right place at the right time in order to take in a performance. It was obvious to me, after only a few minutes into the show, that each and every member of the All Stars really enjoys being a part of the band. I particularly enjoyed their version of "Alley Cat" and the little kindergarten and first graders seated down front seemed to be especially intuned to the old fashioned melodies. The members of the band range in age from 60 something on up to 93 years old. One member of the group had attended GLS when it was a one room school house. Clara Haling graduated GLS in 1926. The last song performed brought the students, faculty and parents together in a standing ovation. The All Stars thanked the school for inviting them and in turn the school thanked the All Stars for giving such an excellent performance. What a wonderful way to expose the students to some of the history in our area and to also show our senior population that kids have not really changed that much over the years.

Apaches Undefeated

Wrestlemania hits Antioch as the "Green Machine Wrestling Team" (the AUGS Apaches) remain undefeated. This nic-name was given to the Apaches by other wrestling teams in the Lake County area. The wrestling scores of the undefeated Apaches are: against Olson of Woodstock 78 to 21; Lake Zurich 71 to 29; Grayslake 66 to 15; Carl Sandburg 76 to 21; Johnsborg 64 to 30; Round Lake 40 to 35; and Lake Villa 71 to 16. The Apaches participated in the Northwest Grade School Conference Wrestling Tournament of Feb. 17. AUGS entered 16 wrestlers and placed 14 of them in the top three place winners. These wrestlers earned second place for AUGS with a total of 221 points. Taking first place were 70 pound Justin Dyer; 80 pound Ben Jansky; 100 pound Bob Scroggins; 105 pound Steve Zalapi; 112 pound Rich Weber; 119

167 pound Mike Shea. The team coaches are Steve Alberts and Ted Siewkowski. They are very optimistic that the wrestlers will break the 200 all-time career win by the end of this season.

Ski trip

About fifty GLS junior high students owe another big "Thank-You" to Ted Gavlin, the junior high science teacher, for planning another fun-filled ski trip to Alpine Valley Resort in East Troy, Wis. Due to the excellent cooperation and behavior of the students participating in the last junior ski trip, Ted felt a second trip was in order. Special "Thank-Yous" must also be extended to the following parents who assisted, Ted, with some of the ski-trip arrangements: Barb and Rich Kocal drove up to Alpine on Thursday to handle the necessary paper work, thus enabling the students to hit the slopes immediately upon arrival to Alpine on Friday, Feb. 23. Laura Miller and Walt Martens helped Ted chaperone the students on the bus to and from Alpine, and Julie Groh and Marie Brausam were on hand at Alpine for extra transportation in case of any skiing mishaps. Joining the group at Alpine to either ski, or merely observe from the lodge, were Renate Wlezien, Mike Plattner, Liz Schmehl, Linda Boerman, Barb Coia, Carol Perry, Micki Santiemmo, Patti Santiemmo, Sally Hiller, Carrie Hiller, Adam Hiller, Sue Misch, Jim Harris, Ardeen Harris, Jenny Harris, Cathy Harris, Jackie Sherwood and Patrick Harris. I hope I didn't leave anyone out. Thanks again, Mr. Gavlin, for all of the hard work and energies you put into making the ski trip so much fun.

Jazz Journey

The Lizard was on hand, along with Dee Samson, Elaine Lasky and Darlene Olenick to enjoy the ACHS Jazz Ensemble presentation, "Jazz Journey V" As we were leaving the auditorium, I heard someone remark "Not bad for a small country school". Not bad was a definite understatement. I say "Excellent for any school, even a large "city" school". I truly felt as if I was attending an elaborate Broadway production, as the A & B jazz ensembles, the show choir, and the Madrigals performed their various song, dance and instrumental routines. The special effects lighting, Speaking of musical talent, here is a little information as to what is taking place at Emmons School during the band and music program. In grades kindergarten through eighth, the students are learning about a musical called "The King and I". The students are learning the criteria that makes up a musical. Pop band is learning to play some snappy tunes consisting of more difficult rhythm patterns and keys. Concert band is preparing for a March concert and contest. The beginning band is learning more notes and how to play harmony, while the guitar class knows three chords, about ten songs, and all are having fun doing it.

Day off

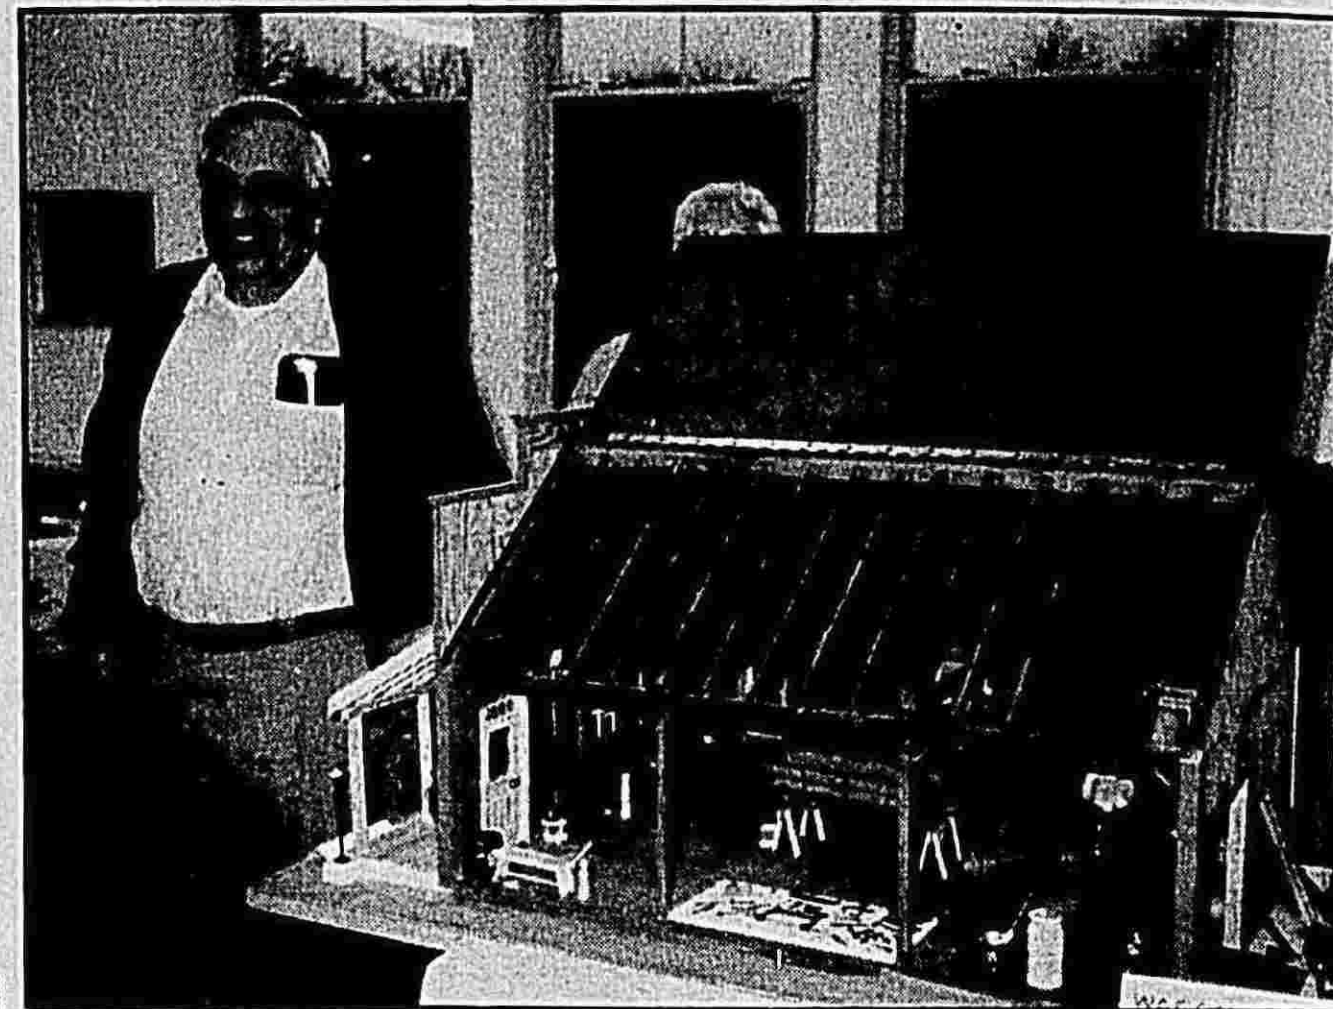

Well, kids, are you preparing some special activities/outings for your up-coming extended weekend away from school? Area schools will not be in session on Monday, March 5 in observance of Casimir Pulaski Day. This is a state holiday and I am sure the kids love the extra day off to "catch up on their homework"!!

Conferences

AUGS will be holding parent teacher conferences on Thursday, March 15. On Wednesday, March 7 a parent principal coffee will be held at AUGS at 10 a.m. If you are interested in attending this coffee, please notify the school by March 6. The results of the AUGS geography bee are as follows: Sixth grade class winner is Bill Bell; seventh grade winner is Kurt Kintz and Marc Enevold is the eighth grade winner. These three classroom champs competed for the all-around school title and Marc Enevold was the winner.

Classroom observation

The past two Fridays I spent time observing the various classroom settings at GLS. I wanted to do this as a school board member in order to get an inside view as to all the positives GLS has to offer. I really enjoyed this visitation time and as I observed the students in the classes, in the halls, at lunch, and at recess, I walked away happy. I'd like to thank one particular student, who always brightens up my day with a cheery hello to the Lizard each time she runs into me at GLS. Laura Edleman always goes out of her way to make me feel welcome at school by acknowledging my presence with her sparkling eyes and bright smile. Laura and her family will be moving from the GLS district in the near future and I know I will

Miniature collector

Earle Beise and his collection of antique miniatures will be one of collectors who will have collections on display at Lakes Region Museum, Main St., Antioch, at collectors' show on Saturday, March 3.

Collectors' show at museum

The Lakes Regions Historical Society will be holding its third annual Collectors' Show on Saturday, March 3, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For this year's show a number of collectors who have not participated previously will have their personal collections on display.

Chairman Janet Brook has found collections that will appeal to a wide range of interest.

For the ladies there will be buttons, pitchers, sponge ware, Greek vases, and Lydia Pinkham memorabilia.

For men and boys there will be wood carvings, federal duck stamps, and a miniature work shop.

Little girls will be interested in a collection of doll dishes.

And for everyone there will be an extensive Chicago Bears exhibit.

Mrs. Brook says this is only a partial list since reservations for space are still coming in.

The Lakes Regions Historical Society is located at 817 Main St. in Antioch. Admission is usually free, but for this date only a $1 donation is requested.

Graduates

Capt. Steven D. Skidmore has graduated from Squadron Officer School at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala. He is a weather officer with the 1st Weather Squadron at MacDill Air Force Base, Fla. He is a 1981 graduate of Antioch Community High School.

Annexation

Keeping proportionate open space in the area was paramount to the discussion.

Trustee Don Amundsen, in talking about buffers, said "We should have a different standards when dealing with the Red Wing Marsh than we have with other wetlands. "Residents Otto Springer and Al Elfering were vocally upset that the area they own bordering the marsh has been set for three acre and five acre lot requirements. Springer told the board that he had been made to understand under the Toft administration that the area bordering the marsh would be set at one-acre lot size requirements.

Village Atty. Ken Clark asked for proof of this, saying there was no record of any such agreement.

Mayor Robert Wilton said that he believed a yearly review of the requirements and zoning should be made.

Whether to keep the area's requirements as proposed by Planning Resources, or make some changes, will be decided by the plan commission and the village board after the on-site visitation.

Wilton disagreed with suggestions for nature trails in the Red Wing Marsh area, adding that bringing tourists into that area could destroy it. "The wetlands and the animal life should be preserved in the marsh area," said the mayor, while suggesting 400-foot buffers instead of the 200-foot buffers surrounding the marsh area as recommended by Planning Resources.

Card party

The Antioch Woman's Club extends an invitation to welcome in spring at its spring card party to be held at St. Benedict's Abbey, Benet Lake, Wis. on Wednesday, March 21, at noon. Dessert, fruits and beverages will be served for a donation of $4 per person. Proceeds will help the AWC attain its charitable goals.

Bake sale

The staff of the First National Bank of Antioch is holding a bake sale on Friday, March 2, from 3 to 6 p.m. and Saturday, March 3, from 8:30 a.m. to noon, to raise money to assist a co-worker with medical expenses for her daughter who has been diagnosed as a lupus victim and has lost her kidneys to this disease.

March endorsements

In races for Lake County Board positions, attention usually is focused on the Republican primary because the Democratic party seldom offers any competition. In west and central Lake County districts, the 1990 campaign is running true to form. There is no Democratic competition for County Board nominations. And if precedent prevails, GOP nominees in the March 20 primary in Districts 4, 5 and 6 will go on to victory. That's why we are devoting special attention to the Republican candidates seeking nominations in these three districts.

Because of the retirement of three veteran County Board leaders this year, we feel voters will be best served by putting a premium on candidates with experience in local government. The overriding issue of the early 1990's will be how local government handles the pressures for growth and development, especially how growth impacts on the environment and Lake County's semi-rural lifestyle and flavor. County representatives will have to approach issues with an even hand, be open and fair. To represent the voters properly, County Board representatives will have to be independent, beholden to no one but the people and their conscience. The qualities of experience, environmental sensitivity and independence are the overriding attributes, in our opinion, to be sought in County Board candidates this election.

Following are the recommendations by this newspaper for County Board offices in the districts with which we are most familiar:

District 4

Antioch, Lake Villa, Grant and Avon Townships. Four running for two GOP nominations. Charlotte Keisgen, incumbent; Charles "Charlie" Johnston, Larry Leafblad and Robert Boness. Recommended: Leafblad and Kiesgen. We recommended Leafblad two years ago. He narrowly missed being nominated. Leafblad will speak out and he will be independent. He has the potential of becoming an outstanding leader. Leafblad is informed and is keenly aware of the problems facing Lake County. He knows the importance of open space and the dangers of over-development. Kiesgen is completing her first term and has acquired valuable insight into problems like solid waste disposal and handling stormwater drainage. If she can exercise independence, Kiesgen can serve the district well. The nomination of Kiesgen and Leafblad will insure each of the respective townships representation on the County Board.

District 5

Warren, Libertyville and Vernon Townships. Four running for two GOP nominations. Carol Calabresa, incumbent; Donald Coulson, Pamela Newton and Robert Depke. Recommended: Depke and Calabresa. Dean of the county's township supervisors and a nationally recognized leader in local government, Depke's past County Board experience will be invaluable to the reorganized board. He is a past County Board chairman. He is forceful and approaches issues with a problem-solving attitude. Depke has followed a middle-of-the-road approach to growth. Calabresa is hard-working and well informed. She has established a reputation of always doing her homework and currently serves on seven committees. She is an avowed supporter of open space. We see her stance on growth and development as providing a vital balance. She is a former village trustee and independent.

District 6

Wauconda, Elmhurst, Cuba and part of Vernon townships. Four running for two GOP nominations. Bruce Hansen and John Reindl, incumbents; Robert Grever and Colin McRae. Recommended: Grever and Reindl. Grever has a wealth of experience in grassroots government as Elmhurst supervisor where he has attained a reputation for fairness, honesty and understanding of the issues. He has the perspective of being a life-long county resident. He has intimate knowledge of the electorate. We consider it a plus to have supervisors serving in the dual capacity as County Board representatives. Reindl has proved to be a serious, devoted representative. An acknowledged environmentalist, Reindl is an expert on wetlands preservation and speaks out on how wetlands are tied closely to quality life. Reindl knows the issues and stands against unbridled growth and development.

Sheriff takes job, campaign in stride

by BILL SCHROEDER

Unflappable and low-keyed, Clint Grinnell isn't letting "little things" like pot shots from an election opponent distract him from running the county's biggest police department and serving as Lake County's top lawman.

As sheriff of Lake County and a candidate for renomination, Grinnell takes the taunts and charges of his opponent in stride. The career policeman responds as the occasion requires and goes about his job of serving as sheriff.

Don Mason, a self-employed investigator who is making his third try for a GOP nomination for sheriff, should know by now that he can't ruffle Grinnell, who has proved to be a tough hombre on the campaign trail while turning out to be a hard working hands-on sheriff.

"I think I've earned re-election," comments Grinnell in his typical self-effacing manner. "I've done the things I said I was going to do and everything is running smoothly," remarked Grinnell, who was elected to a two-year term to serve out the unexpired term of the late Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox.

Grinnell considers his major accomplishments passage of the 9-1-1 emergency telephone plan, establishment of a traffic unit concentrating on DUI cases and accident prevention, moving into the new jail, and doubling his office's commitment to the Metropolitan Enforcement Group (MEG), an elite anti-drug strike force. Lake County now provides four men for the undercover organization. Grinnell also has the department's special investigative unit spending 75 percent of its time on drug related cases. The unit is dominated by young men and women in street clothes handling highly confidential work.

About the county's drug problems, Sheriff Grinnell is his usually frank, upfront self. With an air of pessimism he replies to a question of where we stand, "If we're holding our own, we doing well." Grinnell sees what he calls "fragmentation" of police agencies and other anti-drug forces as hindering efforts to turn the tide against the tidal wave of substance abuse.

Right now, Grinnell feels that the best approach might be expanding on the efforts of successful local efforts to combat drugs. He mentioned programs being conducted at Libertyville High School, the Wauconda Police Dept. and Antioch Grade School as illustrations of what he is talking about.

That's our sheriff. We hope Republicans have the good sense to nominate Grinnell March 20. He's deserving.

FOLLOWING UP—The Lake County Health Dept. leaves no stones unturned in the conduct of its blood pressure screening program operated this time of year at offices and plants. Everyone with an elevated reading gets a personal letter from Rose Cooper, head of the hypertension program, as a reminder to follow up with a physician or a get a recheck. It's nice to know that there's a public bureau that cares about the people it is in business to serve.

COUNTDOWN—St. Patrick's Day will be a memorial this year in at least one genuine Irish saloon, the friendly spot in Wauconda operated for many years by George McFeeley. George is gone, but he won't be forgotten. McFeeley's always has one of the best St. Patrick's Day parties around. Jack Conarchy, the Waukegan insurance broker who has been battling health problems for many months, called this reporter the other day to remind that the big event is just around the corner.

Remember our two great presidents

by VIRGINIA PARK
Lakeland Newspapers

February has come and gone without, as far as I can see, any appropriate homage being paid to our two magnificent presidents of these United States whose birth dates are marked in this month.

Marked by whom? Instead of two legal holidays on Feb. 12 and Feb. 22, we have a jumble of nothingness called Presidents' Day on a convenient Monday. Some people have a holiday. Some do not. Some establishments are closed. Some are not. To most of the general public it is just another long weekend for personal recreation.

There are no parades, no services of thanksgiving for the wisdom, courage and strength of those two exceptional leaders, Washington and Lincoln. They were faced with tremendous challenges, trials and burdens over which they triumphed.

Did you have cherry pie at your home on the 22nd? Or read the Gettysburg Address at the dinner table on the 12th?

I was privileged once again in February to attend the White Breakfast of the General Henry Dearborn Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Chicago, and this time the program was a true patriotic memorial. It was a stirring "Evening With Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln," performed by Max Daniels and Donna Daniels of Wheaton.

Their costumed portrayal of the Lincoln's experiences beginning with their

Hear Ye!
Hear Ye!

departure from Springfield, Illinois, to the President's assassination was outstanding.

To hear someone closely resembling Mr. Lincoln actually recite many of his dearly beloved statements brought a new sense of reverence for the purity and dignity of his command of the language, his masterful ability to say so much in so few well chosen words. Perhaps it brought a few surreptitious tears as well.

The pathos of his Springfield farewell is ever more moving since we know the denouement:

"...I now leave not knowing when or whether I ever may return, to a task before me greater than that which rested on Washington. Without the assistance of that Divine Being who ever attended him I cannot succeed, with this assistance I cannot fail. Trusting in Him who can go with me and remain with you and be everywhere for good, let us confidently hope that all will yet be well..."

This man overcame many obstacles through perseverance and tenacity. He failed in business in 1831; was defeated for the legislature in 1832; failed again in business in 1833; defeated for Congress in 1843; defeated again for Congress in 1848; defeated for the Senate in 1855; defeated for Vice President in 1856; defeated again for the Senate in 1858. Finally, he was elected President in 1860, and again in 1864.

Who does not know these famous words from his Second Inaugural Address? "...With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widow and his orphans, to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and a lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

Today the Gettysburg Address is known the world over. It was short and considered a failure at the time, after two hours of classic oratory by Edward Everett. However, it embodies the determination of all who have experienced a great martial conflict: "...that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that a new nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom and that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."

He was a man of principle who held strong and unchangeable convictions. When he took a stand, it was forever. He said, "I hold that the Union of these States is perpetual." "I believe this Government cannot endure permanently half slave and half free." And then he issued the Emancipation Proclamation which he said was "the central act of my administration, and the great event of the nineteenth century."

Alas that the national celebration of the birthday of this great man has sunk into oblivion, that his noble example is no longer held up to public view to inspire us all, and to have a more tangible influence in government today.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

If you haven't met Judge John R. Nickels, make it a point to do so. The DuPage County farmer and jurist is running for an opening on the 2nd Dist. Appellate Court.

He is a down-to-earth, no non-sense type of guy. He's as easy to talk to as your next door neighbor.

While talking he might whip out a copy of his down home recipe book, "Family Recipes from Judge John L. Nickels." It is a compendium of 17 favorite recipes he is using as a campaign handout.

Some of the delicious entries are Trudy's Turkey Broccoli Casserole, Dave's Teriyaki Roast Beef, Betty's poached fish (simple, and easy to prepare), Mary's Lasagna (as easy to make as any other), JoAnn's Cabbage Slaw (old-fashioned vinegar, better than any deli) and Margaret's Oven Made Caramel Corn (kids will love this).

Anyone who loves to eat will almost certainly vote for Nickels after trying these on for size.

Although the list of former general assistance recipients is closed in Libertyville and other townships, those in Avon Twp. remember one particularly sad case.

It happened in December 1987 and January 1988. A mother of two was down on her luck. The rent was due. Her husband had left her for another woman. The electricity had been turned off for non payment. She and her mother turned to Avon Twp.

She was given $100 to help meet the month's rent. The Community Action Program helped pay the past due electric bill so Com Ed could turn the lights on. More help would have been forthcoming if the mother had not been too embarrassed to apply for food stamps.

Today the mother, Carrie Johnston, is making it on her own.

So is the ex-husband. He wants to make it big as a Dist. 4 County Board member in the Tuesday, March 20, primary. His name is Charles Johnston.

F.T. "Mike" Graham is divorcing himself completely from politics. He isn't a candidate for re-election in the spring Dist. 5 County Board race. Neither is he running for Libertyville Twp. Republican precinct committeeman, a post he has held for years. There are reasons.

After his defeat last year as Libertyville Twp. supervisor, Graham was convinced his opponents wanted to drive the final nail into his political coffin. He says people with big bucks—mostly the developers—had a war chest aimed at burying him politically.

Who's heading this funeral procession? None other than Jack Martin of the Libertyville Saddle Shop and Pat Connors, Graham said. Both are financially and politically savvy. They operate through the Taxpayers for Good Government.

Running for Graham's precinct committeeman's job are no less than three candidates. One is Carol Calabresa, the incumbent Dist. 5 County Board member seeking re-election in March. The Martin-Connors candidate is Robert Butler.

OVERHEARD: Robert Depke of Warren Twp. has received the endorsement of two political friends and neighbors in his Dist. 5 race for the County Board. Giving Depke their unqualified Grade A stamp of approval are county Treasurer Jack "Red" Anderson and Circuit Court Clerk Sally Coffelt. Anderson lives in Gurnee, Coffelt in Warren Twp. According to Vernon Hills Trustee Pam Newton, Libertyville's Jack Martin and Pat Connors are conducting their own interviews with candidates for the County Board in Dist. 5. Their political action group, Taxpayers for Good Government, helped sink F.T. "Mike" Graham's re-election bid as Libertyville Twp. supervisor last March and have an equally big stake in this one. Literature for the different County Board candidates is starting to show up. Robert Depke and Pam Newton have a glossy red, white and blue one in Dist. 5. An almost identical one for Robert Grever and Colin McRae in Dist. 6 looks like it came off the same printing press. Bruce Hansen and John Reindl have a plain one in Dist. 6. Larry Leafblad and Robert Boness have a good one in Dist. 4. Yet to come are lawn signs. Up until now the Tuesday, March 20, primary has been a well-kept secret. Two candidates for the County Board in Dist. 6 are reportedly putting a lot of distance between themselves and Dennis Abbott of Island Lake. The head of the Elia Twp. Rural Fire Protection Dist. is making more friends than enemies in attempting to buy land for new fire stations. Bruce Hansen and John Reindl got Abbott his appointment. The two candidates don't need any more negative baggage in their heated race. People don't like chili as much as Charlie (Johnston) would like. His weekend Chili With Charlie feeds in Dist. 4 where he is a candidate for the County Board have drawn mixed crowds. His campaign manager termed last Saturday's turnout "pretty good." A Johnston watcher counting heads on Saturday said: "It was pretty good if held in a phone booth." Dist. 5 County Board member Carol Calabresa is thinking about getting a new campaign button. It will read: "Yes, I am the mother of Liz Calabresa." Her daughter, a junior at Libertyville High School, is rated among the state's top 10 gymnasts in all-around events. "Almost everywhere I go someone invariably comes up and asks me, 'Are you Liz's mother?'" Wauconda Twp. Republican Precinct Committeeman Fred Bigham of Island Lake knows how to campaign. He's working on several in this year's March 20 primary. And he's got his own for re-election. Bigham is a great believer in give aways. He is handing out pot holders, refrigerator magnets and book matches. But no bumper stickers. The Wauconda Twp. Republican Assn. may have to use a new crystal ball to pick dates for its special events. A Valentine's Day party by the sponsoring Committeemen With a Heart was a bust because of a nine-inch snowstorm. Turnout for a Sunday afternoon Candidate's Night on Feb. 25 wasn't much better. Apparently candidates and voters keep Sundays for themselves.

Fred Bigham

Robert Depke

John Nickels

Support library issue

Editor:

On March 20, the voters of the Warren-Newport Public Library District will have a chance to restore our library to its former level of service. Since the failure of last November's referendum, the Warren-Newport Public Library has been forced to reduce its level of service to its residents. Hours have been cut and programs have been reduced. The number of items that can be checked out at one time has been limited, and the purchase of new materials has been curtailed. Further cuts will be instituted if the March referendum is not approved.

The Warren-Newport Public Library has not had an increase in the operating library tax rate since it opened in 1974. However, the population of our district has nearly doubled, and the number of residents who have library cards is over five times what it was in 1974. Circulation has grown over seven times larger. An increase in the tax rate would be the first after more than 15 years of service. It would allow our library to increase its hours of operation, purchase more books and audio-visual materials and continue its excellent phone reference and bookmobile service.

Reckless driving

Editor:

I am very much in agreement with Mr. Ditus's letter regarding vehicles disregarding the posted speed limits.

Living on Hwy. 59 (in a 40 mph. area) I am appalled at the rate of speed the majority travel.

I am in favor of putting a stop light at the corner of Monaville Rd. and Hwy. 59. Also let's bring the limit down to 25 mph in this area.

Very rarely is Radar being used to nab these drivers along Hwy. 59. Let's nab 'em!

People's lives are much more precious than getting to point B in unsafe manners.

Agenda objectionable

Editor:

I am concerned that your current political columnist may be using his skill with words to promote his own personal agenda with regard to political figures in our county. This would not be consistent with your usual high standards.

In specific, I feel your coverage of Charles Johnston, candidate for Dist. 4, County Board does not reflect his tremendous organizational skills, energy and community-mindedness.

I join with the Grant Township Republican Organization in giving my 100% support to their endorsed candidates, Charlotte Kiesgen and Charles Johnston.

Redistribute tax burden

Editor:

When the Lindenhurst Park Dist. takes "ownership" of the three lakes in Lindenhurst from the village, they will have to increase revenues to pay for the care and maintenance. There is only one real way to to this - taxes.

It also stands to reason that the village will no longer have that financial burden. Therefore, I would like to propose that when the park district raises its taxes, the village's tax be reduced by an equal (or greater) amount. Thus, redistributing, not increasing, the combined tax burden.

Any attempt to raise the park district's taxes without off-setting village tax reduction, I will oppose vigorously.

Coverage appreciated

Editor:

On behalf of Carmel High School and all the volunteers who are responsible for the production of Street Scenes "Variations," we thank you for coverage of our annual fundraiser that you published so prominently in your newspaper. This event was a huge success.

Because of the efforts of your newspaper, your staff, reporters and photographers, this was the best Street Scenes. The end result will be the continuation of the academic excellence of Carmel High School.

Christakis enjoys role as young world traveler

It was dinner time at the Christakis residence in Gurnee, but nobody seemed to mind the intrusion.

For Paul Christakis and his mother, Cynthia, and his brother, Tim, had grown accustomed to visits in their Wedgewood Creek Apartment complex by members of the media. But tomorrow would be the big day.

Paul, age 11, would begin a journey with an emphasis on peace with a visit with President George Bush in San Francisco. He already had the orange baseball ready for the former Yale player.

"We should take from what we have so there will be no homelessness," Paul said of what he would tell the President. Paul is making the Far East trip as part of the Children as the Peacemakers Organization. This stemmed from his and his mom's work with the Lake County Public Action to Deliver Shelter.

"I would be putting down the pillow cases and Mom would be setting out the silverware for dinner. It's rewarding," Paul said.

A fifth grader at Waukegan Christian School, Paul said his friends are somewhat jealous of his celebrity status.

When not a celebrity, he has the same interests as most youngsters - playing baseball and soccer are his favorites. He plays in the Gurnee Park Dist. league in soccer.

The group will be meeting, in addition to President Bush, the emperor of Japan, the premier of China, presidents of North and South Korea and more.

Mrs. Christakis said another part of the group's international travels will be a visit with Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev this fall.

Several people wrote letters of recommendation on Paul's behalf so he could make the trip, including Rev. Steven Borwick of the Wesley Free Methodist Church in Waukegan.

Paul will be keeping a journal during the trip.

Slams Graham, Calabresa

Editor:

Correcting statements made by F.T. "Mike" Graham and Carol Calabresa is a full-time project for most who care about the truth.

"Mike's Math" and "Carol's Claims" should make every informed person wary every time they open their mouths.

Case in point: Both are claiming that "85 percent of land acquisitions of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. last year were settled without condemnation suits." We know Mike Graham is "over zealous," as he claims, in his land acquisition strategy. Carol, as recently as the upcoming county board elections, claims she is opposed to condemnation.

Point one: The 82 parcels acquired last year, as reported by the press involved only 44 cases. If you correct "Mike's Math" and "Carol's Claim," you find 73 percent of the cases were settled prior to filing a condemnation suit. But Mike and Carol forgot about, or would rather not include and fail to mention, the 32 condemnation suits filed in 1989.

Fact: Only 42 percent of the acquired or filed were settled, not 85 percent.

Point two: "Mike's Men (and Women)" on the county board who are now seeking election or reelection are cautiously sidestepping the condemnation issue. Some are even saying "Condemnation is good." This reminds me of Gordon Gekko (Michael Douglas) in a recent movie saying, "Greed is Good." Do you really believe this? Mike and Carol do!

Fact: Carol Calabresa has voted for every condemnation suit of the Lake County Forest Preserve Board in the last year.

Real issue: killing

Editor:

Imagine my surprise to read that Senator Paul Simon is a sponsor for Bill S-1912, "Freedom of Choice Act."

This bill states that the states "may not restrict" abortion even after viability, if abortion is deemed necessary to protect the mother's "health."

"Viability" refers to the time when a baby could survive independently of the mother. The bill leaves this term undefined.

With respect to abortion, the Supreme Court has defined "health" to include the absence of emotional distress. Under this definition, it would be impossible for states to place meaningful restrictions on abortion even during the final three months of pregnancy.

Pro-Life legal scholars believe that the bill would invalidate virtually any state regulations of abortion, including parental notice law and restrictions on public funding of abortions.

The terminology of the Act is very interesting - "The freedom of choice." The pro-abortion proponents have been quite successful in framing the issue to one of choice instead of what the issue is all about: The killing of innocent unborn babies.

This profound shift from the killing of innocent unborn babies to a woman's right to choose accepts the claim that the only issue at stake is the issue of a woman's choice.

The argument is clearly about the right to life (sanctity of life) vs. the right to control life (humanistic). It's time we all defend innocent human life - all our lives are on the line.

Study land acquisition

Editor:

I have been a Wildwood resident for the last 19 years and am deeply troubled about the actions of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. Recently they have claimed that 85 percent of land acquisitions were made through "mutually agreeable" negotiations. Words like "evenhanded" and "pleasantly surprised" were used to describe the resulting two out of 82 land cases which went to court.

What the board omitted, was how unfairly the negotiations were handled. In many cases the Forest Preserve informed the private land owners of condemnation, offered a low bid of 25-35 cents on the actual dollar valuation, then left them hanging for a couple of years knowing that most would move and be strapped with an additional mortgage.

Meanwhile intentionally lengthy legal activity would be used or threatened to increase the homeowner's legal expenses and personal stress. After numerous delays and legal bills running in the $10,000 - $50,000 range, serious negotiations are started with the threat that the Forest Preserve will appeal any decision they do not like. The homeowner is then faced with a possible $50,000 to $60,000 legal bill if an appeal is raised.

Many homeowners facing condemnation are elderly, ill and of modest means. Few can take this intentional psychological and financial stress. Most cave in and accept "negotiated" settlements for their property because they lack the financial resources and strength to even get to court. This is unfair.

The publicity mentions the $23,000,000 spent for this land but omits the large legal fees spent for Forest Preserve activity. The public should know what this terribly unfair (and expensive) technique of land acquisition really costs. An investigation should be made concerning the possibility of improper coercion of home owners by Mr. Anderson and other board members who may be violating the law by abusing their powers. The practices of Forest Preserve attorneys which seem to inflame homeowners and increase litigation costs including legal fees should be examined.

This can start with a survey of the 82 landowners who had negotiated with the Forest Preserve. Availability of fair jury trials for home owners who face condemnation should be made a practical option and not a financial impossibility. Examination of alleged unnecessary low-ball bidding and rudeness by attorneys should be made for this may be contributing to the exceptionally high legal costs which otherwise could be used for preserve improvements.

Danielses take the hassles out of making travel plans

by MIKE PRAMSHAFFER
Lakeland Newspapers

For the past 18 years, Dottie and Wally Daniels have made an art out of making travel plans an enjoyable experience for businessmen and families alike.

For a lot of travelers, making reservations for a trip can be a very frustrating experience, with one hassle after another, without seeming to get what they really want. The Danielses, however, will "do whatever it takes to satisfy their clients and to make their trip as enjoyable as possible."

Owners of Antioch Travel Agency and Advance Travel Agency in Zion, Dottie and Wally Daniels believe in the business philosophy that "service" should be the number one priority in the travel industry.

"The travel agency business is very competitive. Without a good reputation for service, you won't last long. A good majority of our clients are return customers because they've enjoyed working with us," said Wally.

The Danielses purchased Antioch Travel Agency in 1972 and opened Advance Travel two years later. "Things were going well in Antioch, so we decided to open the Zion facility because we have a lot of friends and family in that area and we thought we could be pretty successful there. The Zion area had a need at that time for a travel agency, and we filled that need," asserts Dottie.

Residents of Wadsworth, the Danielses both were employed in the banking industry prior to shifting their career directions. Dottie was a banker at Citizens National Bank in Waukegan, while Wally had been an executive vice president for the First National Bank of Antioch.

Dottie actually has been in the travel agency business longer than Wally though, as he just joined the agency full time six years ago after a short stint with Gurnee National Bank.

"We both decided that we just needed a change. We weren't really unhappy with our careers, but we wanted to try something new," said Dottie.

Both facilities offer extensive travel packages, including tours. Trips can be arranged to suit each person's needs and wants, either by airplane, bus, train or cruise ship.

"If people really aren't sure what they want to do or where they want to go, we'll offer suggestions to them. We try to be as personable as possible to make them feel at home, especially those who have never flown before or taken a cruise," said Wally.

The Danielses like to get away themselves at least two times a year. "This enables us to give advice on certain countries or cities if one of our clients is considering going there. If really makes a difference to us is we can help someone make their travel plans, and this is a good way of doing it because there's no better advice than that of personal experience," adds Dottie.

The Antioch facility just recently celebrated its 30th anniversary. "We've really enjoyed doing business in Antioch. I hope the next 30 years are just as successful as the first 30," said Wally.

Another reason why the Danielses feel they have been successful is a strong supporting cast. "We pick a very selective group of employees because we want to make sure our clients are getting the service they deserve. Turnover in this business is a very big key because a lot of customers like to do business with the same agent each trip. Luckily, our turnover has been minimal," he added.

The Danielses are firm believers that they have the upper edge over their competitors because they pride themselves in giving their clients a wide selection of choices when planning a trip, where other agencies don't. "A lot of agencies will just give the customer one price - take it or leave it. We're more than happy to give them several options to hash over so they get what they want, both financially and for pleasure," said Wally.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

Would the blessing of Moses persuade you to invest in an oil and gas deal?

Recently, just such a scheme was promoted on religious radio stations and made millions for the swindlers.

Each year around 15,000 Americans are victims of these types of schemes.

This is not to suggest that legitimate fund raising should be suspect. The Council of Better Business Bureaus warns against self-proclaimed Christian financial planners. States are attempting to tighten their security regulations, but enforcement is often difficult.

Because of the religious implication, many investors fail to exercise the basic caution they normally would in evaluating an investment. Protect yourself against religious schemes by scrutinizing all security salespeople with the same intensity.

Religion-based investments and their promoters are regulated by the same laws that apply to any other investment or salesperson. Don't let anyone convince you otherwise.

El Barrio traces history back to Mexico, 1876

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

One of this area's most authentic Mexican restaurants traces its beginnings to 1876 in Monterey, Mexico. Today it is operated by the fifth generation of the same family using recipes that have remained virtually unchanged over the years.

It is the El Barrio restaurant at 1122 Diamond Lake Rd., Mundelein, on the shore of Diamond Lake.

It was in 1971 that Armondo and Josephine Arebalo opened a Mexican grocery store at the Diamond Lake Rd. address. It was a tiny, 16-foot by 16-foot building. The couple did a thriving business serving the growing Mexican population that had migrated to this area. Equally as popular with Mexican and American customers alike was the carry-out business of this small store. Josephine Arebalo used the same recipes her great grandmother proudly served at home in Monterey, Mexico. That was before the family migrated to San Antonio, Texas, and, eventually, Mundelein.

The El Barrio grocery store grew, but the carry-out business grew faster. In 1974 a 16-foot addition was added to double the size of the grocery store and give carry-out customers a place to wait or sit down to eat, if they wanted.

Business doubled and tripled. In 1977 the El Barrio restaurant was established and, in 1979, a lounge added. The grocery store was moved to a former tavern next door and a laundromat added. That location is now operated by two brothers, Abel and Alex.

Today, El Barrio serves food and drinks that have become known throughout the area as the standard for authentic Mexican cuisine.

Owners are Armondo Arebalo Jr. and his wife, Maria. They took over the business several years ago from his parents. Maria and her mother-in-law, Josephine, do all of the cooking. "They know what my grandmother intended in her recipes and how they should be prepared and served," Armondo said.

Armondo came to Mundelein with his parents at the age of 3. He attended and graduated from Mundelein grade and high schools. Like his parents, he found that hard work and good work ethic avenues to success. Armondo worked in both the grocery store restaurant ever since he was old enough to do so.

He is a stickler for detail. The hacienda-type building that houses El Barrio is exactly like similar buildings in Texas or Mexico. It has the same sandstone color and swirls of plaster inside and out. The functional dining room chairs are hand carved by Mexican artisans. All waitresses wear colorful Mexican dresses. Adding to the setting is a background of Mexican music.

In the lounge all limes for the margaritas are hand squeezed—200 to 300 pounds of them each week. There are also seven Mexican beers.

The kitchen pays equal attention to detail. Each enchilada is hand-rolled to order. That is a lot of rolling during the seven days each week the restaurant is open.

El Barrio

The Arebalos are proud of the food served at the El Barrio. The three-page menu is mostly devoted to tacos, tostadas, tamales, fajitas and desserts in a variety of combinations and prices. The front page begins with a brief story behind El Barrio's. The last page has the words in Spanish: "Bienvenidos amigos" (Welcome friends). This is philosophy that has kept customers returning time and again to enjoy cuisine that has made the El Barrio a landmark institution, both for the family and those who patronize it.

First Colonial acquires Fox Lake State Bank

First Colonial Bankshares Corp. has purchased the $67 million asset Fox Lake State Bank. The acquisition is the fourth announced by the $1.25 billion asset holding company in the past two months.

"Fox Lake State Bank continues First Colonial's expansion in Lake County and complements our already strong presence in the Chicago area," commented C. Paul Johnson, First Colonial chairman and chief executive officer.

Johnson said the purchase should be completed, pending regulatory approval, by late April.

First Colonial Bankshares Corp. established a new bank, First Colonial Bank of Lake County, Vernon Hills, in August of 1988. The bank's assets as of Dec. 31, 1989 are $33 million. The holding company also owns 10 other banks with 15 locations throughout the Chicago area.

In addition to First Colonial Bank of Lake County, First Colonial banks include All American Bank, Colonial Bank, Community Bank of Edgewater, Michigan Ave. National Bank, all in Chicago; First Colonial Bank of Elk Grove, Elk Grove Village; Avenue Bank of Oak Park; First Colonial

Bank Northwest, Niles and Wheeling; First Colonial Bank of DuPage County, Glendale Heights and Naperville; Northlake Bank, Northlake; and Northwest Commerce Bank, Rosemont. Acquisitions pending regulatory approval include American National Bank of DuPage, Downers Grove; Burbank State Bank, Burbank; and York State Bank, Elmhurst.

ASK ABOUT OUR LIFETIME SERVICE GUARANTEE.

The problem with most car repair guarantees is they give you only temporary coverage.

Many cover parts but not labor. And many of those that do cover both parts and labor don't do so for long. That's why there's the Lifetime Service Guarantee.

Here's how it works: Once you pay for a covered repair at any participating Ford or Lincoln-Mercury dealer nationwide, the bill will be stamped as an LSG repair. Then, if the same repair ever needs to be done again, just show your receipt and we'll fix it free for as long as you own your car. Free parts. Free labor. For life. It's that simple.

The Lifetime Service Guarantee is America's best car repair guarantee, because it covers virtually everything except normal wear and maintenance items like wiper blades and tires. And only Ford, Lincoln and Mercury owners can get it.

So ask your dealer for a copy of the Lifetime Service Guarantee. Because Peace of Mind™ is being wrapped in a blanket coverage for life. Not a bandage that's sure to fall off before you know it.

Illinois Bell reduces force by 15 percent

Beginning March 1, Illinois Bell's management work force will be reduced by 930 employees who accepted a salary buyout plan offered by the company.

The departing employees represent 15 percent of the 6,100 managers on the Illinois Bell payroll and will bring the company close to its management target of 5,100.

"This will help move us quickly toward building long-term efficiency into our business," said Richard H. Brown, Illinois Bell president. "It will put us in a strong position to compete in the 1990's."

The new structure will speed decision-making and enable the company to respond rapidly to changes in the marketplace, Brown said.

Illinois Bell offered managers with 10 years or more service the option of receiving a one-time payment equal to nine months' salary. Those taking advantage of the offer left the company Feb. 28.

The February management reduction program was the most recent of a series of voluntary separation plans offered by Illinois Bell. In 1985, 1,100 managers left the company through a similar offer.

Petition for acreage

LIBERTYVILLE—Organizers of a petition drive want 4,000 signatures they hope will force the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. and Vernon Hills to negotiate the future of 475 acres of the 1,174-acre Cuneo estate. At the same time, Libertyville Trustee Patricia Enderle wants the village board to urge the Forest Preserve Dist. that part of the same acreage be used as a regional recreation area.

Historic village hall

MUNDELEIN—Historical status will be sought for the 71-year-old village hall. The state Historical Preservation Society will be asked to designate the two-story Victorian building as a landmark. This could lead to a possible grant to maintain and expand the building. An expansion that could double the size of the building is planned within the next five to six years.

Acquires land

WAUKEGAN—The Lake County Forest Preserve Board has approved by a 13-10 vote to acquire about 54.5 acres known as the Waukegan Savanna Extension, a series of small lots which are in the "clear zone" of Waukegan Airport's Runway Five. The additional acreage will adjoin to portions of the Waukegan Savanna already purchased by the district.

Plan opening

GURNEE—Welton's County Market will celebrate the grand remodeling of Welton's County Market, the grand opening of a new First Midwest Bank facility and a tour of the Welton Management Services new offices March 6. The event will be held from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Balen apologizes

WAUKEGAN—Lake County black clergy received an apology but no resignation from Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. board member John Balen. Members of the North Shore Ministers Fellowship crowded the audience at the Lake County Forest Preserve meeting Friday, and Rev. T.N. Lightfoot asked for Balen's resignation. "If anyone on this board thinks I will resign; they have another thing coming," Balen said.

St. Pats dance

GRANDWOOD PARK—The Grandwood Park Civic Assn. will be hosting its annual St. Patrick's Day Dance at the Grandwood Park Community Center, 36630 N. Hutchins Rd. Live music will be performed by the Flares at the dance, which will run from 8 p.m. to midnight March 10. Tickets are $5 per person and cocktails will be available.

Sue HOD

ANTIOCH—Now that the HOD Landfill in Antioch has been put on the State of Illinois' Superfund list for cleanup because of possible hazardous waste, the Village of Antioch is suing Waste Management for damages of possible future pollution caused by materials in the landfill. The USEPA is waiting for a remedial plan to be filed by Waste Management and principle dumpers such as Johnson Motors, landfill user for 18 years. The Village of Antioch is also asking the world's largest refuse dealer to clean-up the site completely. Possible hazardous materials in the landfill were reported by monitoring wells around the site that showed heavy zinc deposits.

Refuse offer

VERNON HILLS—Lake County Forest Preserve Commissioner F.T. "Mike" Graham offered to have his Land Acquisition Committee meet with Vernon Hills Village Board and the Cuneo property owners, but some village officials refuse to meet with Graham's committee before the November election. Trustee Richard Cashman said Graham's actions are a political tactic to excite activity to help county board candidates Carol Calabrese and Donald Coulson. Village President Barb Williams said she is willing to meet with the Forest Preserve Dist. Board to discuss Cuneo land, but not with Graham or his committee.

Chemicals spilled

LAKE ZURICH—What could have been a major disaster turned out to be a minor industrial accident when about 500 gallons of a solvent from the R.A. Briggs factory in Lake Zurich began leaking into Mionske Pond and flowing into Lake Zurich. The substance, later identified as a mineral spirit that is close in chemical composition to paint thinner, leaked from a broken pipe on a solvent tank inside the plant, according to David Allen, vice-president of operations for Briggs. Officials estimate it will take three weeks to clean up the spill.

Facility approved

WAUCONDA—Unless there is a drastic change of heart among Wauconda trustees between now and the next Board of Trustees meeting on Tuesday, March 6, the Village Board will officially vote to instruct architects to scale down plans for the new village police station by about 2,002 square feet. The decision to reduce the square footage was first introduced at a Feb. 13 committee meeting and was given preliminary approval Tuesday. Trustees felt the original plan was too costly.

Hear candidates

WARREN TWP—Whether or not the candidates for Lake County Board Dist. 5 would continue other position, plus their stance on a sewer extension request by Gurnee were the highlights of a candidates' night at Warren Twp. Center. Some 25 residents braved the snowy, ice-packed roads to travel to the center and hear all four candidates on the March 20 Republican primary ballot give their viewpoints. The event was hosted by the Homeowners of Wildwood. Incumbent Carol Calabrese of Libertyville was joined by Libertyville Trustee Donald Coulson, Warren Twp. Supv. Robert Depke and Vernon Hills Trustee Pam Newton.

The blackout that should have occurred over northern Illinois last July 10th was averted nearly two decades earlier. That's when the decisions were made to build our Byron and Braidwood generating stations.

Had we adopted a wait-and-see attitude, and simply hoped for the best, your electric bill might be lower today, but so would the generating capacity available to serve your needs. We'd be struggling, as other companies are, to provide even minimum service during peak demand. And could be facing a construction program in the 1990's that might well be twice as costly as it was in the 70's and 80's.

Instead, while other utilities struggle to reduce acid-rain-causing emissions and build new facilities to satisfy demand, we have one of the cleanest generating systems in the world, with capacity to meet your growing needs well through the 90's.

No one is blessed with the wisdom to be always right. But it is our responsibility to foresee the needs of 8 million people in northern Illinois and provide for those needs at the lowest possible cost. When historians record the decade of the 90's, we believe we'll be judged to have met that responsibility.

Protect your skin during winter season

For millions of Americans, the frigid temperatures and snowbound days of winter are no deterrent to regular exercising. Such traditionally warm weather pastimes as jogging and race walking have joined ice skating and cross country and downhill skiing as popular winter time activities.

But along with the rosy glow of an afternoon spent skiing the slopes or skating across a frozen pond can come dry or flaking skin. Winter's cold temperatures, low humidity and strong winds diminish the ability of your skin's lipid barriers to act as insulators and retain moisture.

The following suggestions from skin care experts will help.

Protect your skin with a moisturizer that works all day long. Winter's low humidity robs the skin of essential moisture, making fine facial lines and wrinkles more noticeable. An effective moisturizer is a must for restoring a normal moisture ratio to your skin.

But it is impractical to continually moisturize while out for a day of winter sports. The solution for a growing number of people is a moisturizer that incorporates microencapsulate technology.

Apply a sunscreen with an SPF of 15 or higher over all exposed skin. A snow-covered field or mountainside will reflect approximately 85 percent of the sunlight that hits it. The result can be a nasty sunburn for winter athletes after only a few hours outside without protection. Downhill skiers should be particularly alert; the higher altitudes to which they travel offer even less protection from the sun's rays.

And don't be deceived by an overcast day; ultraviolet radiation can find its way through a light cloud cover to leave you painfully burned at the end of the day.

Pay special attention to such particularly sensitive areas as your lips, nose and eyes. Consider applying a light, even coating of zinc oxide or other sun block to such problem areas as the nose. Liberally apply a lip balm to prevent dry, cracked lips.

And wear sunglasses capable of blocking UV light whenever you are exercising out of doors, in order to protect the sensitive skin around your eyes.

Wash with a mild cleanser, in place of soap, to remove perspiration residue. Although you can easily work up a sweat during wintertime exercising, the lower temperatures and humidity hasten the evaporation process, making it less likely that you will feel an immediate need to cleanse your face. But if not thoroughly removed, the salt residue from perspiration can dry your skin.

Avoid alkali-based soaps which can aggravate this condition and select a cleanser that cleans without stripping skin of essential moisture.

Not to be overlooked are skin care concerns for indoor athletes, whether aerobicizing, swimming or playing tennis. Although most people are aware that cold temperatures outdoors can dry your skin, many do not realize that forced hot air from furnaces has an even lower level of water, causing greater moisture loss from the skin.

Nighttime moisturizing is particularly important in such an environment. Working while you sleep, a good nighttime moisturizer not only applies water to your skin externally but also protects against moisture loss from within.

Health and Fitness

Running for physical fitness still popular

It began as a craze in the 1970s, and continues today as one of the most popular ways to get in shape—running for fitness.

To get the most fitness benefits from running, it is wise to follow some basic guidelines. This will help prevent injury and keep you on the road longer.

If you are new to running, check with your physician first. You may want to get a fitness evaluation to assess your starting level. While no one can tell you exactly how far to go at the beginning, a rule of thumb is to begin with a warmup and then walk briskly until you are moving easily and comfortably.

Then, run at a comfortable pace until you feel a little fatigued. Switch to walking and then run when you feel ready again. Repeat this cycle for 20 minutes. Try this every other day until you are running continuously for 20 minutes.

The intensity should remain fairly constant over the 20 minutes, as your heart and breathing rates increase. After four to six weeks, if you practice three to four times per week, you should be running consistently for 20 minutes. (Older people may take longer to reach that point).

Then you can start adding on time to a total of 40 minutes. For aerobic benefits to take place, a 20 to 40 minute workout is recommended.

As mentioned before, a warmup should always be included. A proper warmup includes low level movements (i.e., knee lifts, walking in place, arm circles) combined with stretching for three to five minutes before starting on your run. This helps get your body ready for more intense activity.

It's also important to gradually cool down when you are done. Finish your run by easing into a slow walk and then continue walking until you feel that your heart and breathing rates are approaching your resting level. Then finish with some stretching exercises.

Running is a fairly inexpensive way to get in shape. About all that is necessary is a good, well-constructed and comfortable pair of running shoes and comfortable clothing. Training shoes with heavy cushioned soles and arch supports are preferable to flimsy sneakers.

Several running magazines annually rate the major brands and popular models and any sports or shoe store with a qualified staff will be happy to answer your questions. Whatever shoe you choose, make sure it is comfortable.

As for running style, run in an upright position, keeping your head up and your back straight. Carry your arms slightly away from your body with your elbows slightly bent. Occasionally shake and relax your arms to prevent tightness in the shoulders.

Land on your heel and rock forward to drive off the ball of your foot. Keep your stride relatively short and breathe with your mouth open.

Listen to your body when you run. If you develop pain, or any other unusual symptoms, slow down or gradually stop. If the problem persists, see your physician before running again. You may have to switch to a combination of aerobic exercises or run on a different surface.

Running a great endurance exercise but it is not a total conditioning program. Include flexibility and muscular strength and endurance exercises on a regular basis to give your fitness regimen proper balance and make you better prepared for running.

Podiatrists dispel myths about foot injury treatments

by Jack R. Chulengarian
D.P.M., F.A.A.F.S.

Traumatic injuries to the foot and ankle are everyday occurrences which require early treatment for proper healing and avoidance of complications.

Despite their frequency, such injuries have many myths associated with them, along with improper methods of self-care.

Myth number one is that a foot is not fractured because a person can walk on it. The truth is that often a person can walk with certain kinds of fractures, such as breaks of the thinner of the two leg bones; a "chip-type" fracture of either the foot or ankle bone; and the frequently neglected fracture of a toe bone.

Another myth is that a break in a toe bone does not require immediate care. Toe fractures need prompt attention. If x-rays reveal it to be a simple undisplaced fracture, care by a family podiatrist usually can produce rapid relief.

However, x-rays might identify a displaced or angulated break, which would require prompt "setting" by a podiatrist to ensure complete healing.

There are also several myths including hot water soaks for foot and ankle injuries—which, in reality, can increase swelling and that applying elastic bandages to a sprained ankle is adequate treatment.

Hot water soaks let blood rush to injured areas more rapidly, resulting in more pain and swelling. Cool compresses, on the other hand, will have the opposite effect. Later, possibly in 48 to 72 hours, after the acute phase has subsided, warm compresses or soaks can be used to summon the body's repair processes.

Ankle sprains often mean torn ligaments which should receive immediate care, such as professional strapping or casting to limit motion and ensure normal recovery.

 This clever comedy is about a middle-aged corporate president who has only been married a year, but who lives in very modest surroundings with a wife who thinks he is a fork-lift operator at the factory he actually owns. Why she believes this and how the secret becomes unraveled contribute to the hilarious happenings in this show that originally starred Kaye Ballard.

CLC trustees approve goals

Planning for new college facilities and an improvement in student retention systems were among the priority goals approved by the College of Lake County Board of Trustees at the regular meeting last month.

CLC President Daniel LaVista recommended nine goals for focused attention during the 1990-91 fiscal year. Among the goals approved was the "development and implementation of a computerized student retention system to enhance student success, with emphasis on the needs of special and minority students." The college is pursuing a grant from the U.S. Dept. of Education to fund this retention system.

Also identified as a college goal for the coming fiscal year was "development of a plan to acquire necessary facilities and equipment to accomplish the college's mission and goals, including a plan for a multiuse instructional facility, a performing arts center, additional campus sites, and departmental space needs caused by enrollment and program growth."

In a separate report to trustees, LaVista detailed CLC's enrollment growth during the spring semester. Current enrollment at the college is 13,689 students, an increase of 9.6 percent over the spring semester of 1989.

"We are not pursuing growth just for the sake of reporting a larger enrollment figure," commented LaVista. "We're looking to equate college growth with expanded service to a district which has a rapidly increasing population."

Other college goals approved by trustees focus on curriculum modification, improved programs of staff support, strengthened relationships with community and educational organizations, and a continued emphasis on the college's service to students. Trustee Richard Anderson of Grayslake commented, "These goals represent a strong step forward for the college in a direction which I am happy to see."

In other action, trustees authorized the college to engage Peat Marwick Main and Company to perform the fiscal 1990 audit of the college at a cost of $57,200. A comprehensive audit of all college fiscal operations will be performed, including a general audit of college operating funds, the Naval Training Center operations, the CLC foundation and the student financial aid program. This is the third year that Peat Marwick Main has performed the audit for the college.

Three college faculty member were approved by the board of trustees to be placed on tenure status. Computer-assisted-design instructor Steven Dulmes of Lake Villa will be placed on tenure effective in the current semester. Food service instructor Clifford Wener of Wilmette and law enforcement instructor Roger Voltz of Greenfield, will be placed on tenure effective in the fall 1990 semester.

Mathematics instructor David Schaefer of Grayslake was honored by trustees for recently achieving 20 years of service to the college.

THE COUNTER OFFER

QUESTION: I received a written offer to purchase my property. What happens to the original offer if I make a counter offer?

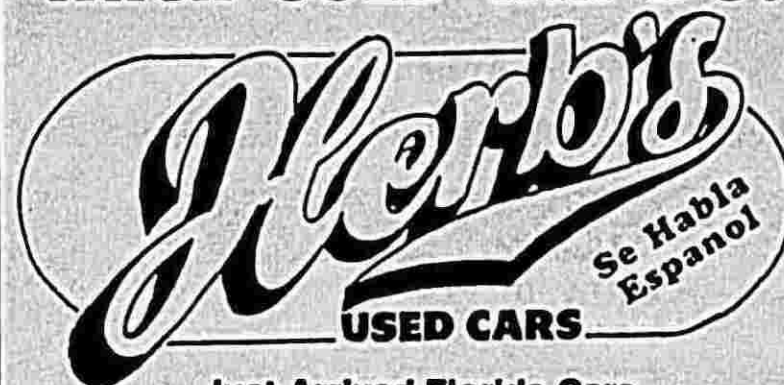

ANSWER: A counter offer is a combination of a rejection of the initial offer and a new offer by the seller. When the seller demands a higher price, more down payment, or different terms, the buyer's original offer is automatically cancelled. In effect, this may burn bridges behind you. If the buyer refuses your counter offer, there is no way you can force him to make good on the original offer because it will have been wiped out with the rejection and counter offer. This is a tricky area of negotiation that calls for expert advice.

Film Review

Jessica Lange grows in dramatic stature with every movie she makes and her latest, "Men Don't Leave," is no exception.

During the bulk of the picture, Lange tempers the grief and depression of a new widow with a great sense of comedy timing based on her daily life.

This is also a story of how two boys deal with their father's loss.

The teenage son, played by Chris O'Donnell, who deals with his loss in the arms of the older wacky woman neighbor, Joan Cusack, is a refreshing character and Cusack turns in the same stand-out eccentric performance that had her up for an Academy Award for "Working Girl" last year.

Of course, Mom finds a new love interest and this in itself is the story of another unique relationship.

None of the principals are ever the same after dad's death and the film sensitively follows each through a metamorphosis.

These are real people, dealing with a real problem, but they manage to make the audience laugh along the way. We're giving this an A No. 1 rating with five big stars.

Film history bit confusing

by TOM WITOM
Lakeland Newspapers

Lampoons are by their nature broad, outrageous sendups, and Christopher Durang's "A History of the American Film" is no exception.

This musical spoof, presented by the Pegasus Players at the O'Rourke Center of Chicago's Truman College, zeroes in on an multitude of classic movie scenes, cliches and characters from the silents of the 1920s to the disaster pictures of the 1970s.

Critic's Choice

A cast of 15 takes on 80 character roles. It's an ambitious undertaking. And while the concept is sound, the execution is wanting. The trouble is simple: too many of the movies being satirized are not easily identifiable.

The result is disconcerting: ripples of laughter come in spurts from different parts of the audience - at different times. It's analogous to dead spots in a microwave oven; the play fails to ignite an even spark of recognition and laughter.

Dir. Roy Hine could have helped dispel some of the confusion with overhead titles or some other blatant tipoff.

The best staging involved a take off on a Busby Berkeley-type extravaganza in which the dancers pay tribute to the tossed salad to a colorful World War II let's-go-get-'em rouse.

Another favorite: the witty reenactment of the airport scene from "Casablanca, where the Humphrey Bogart character tells his heartthrob "I came to say goodbye to you and your dull husband."

In between are bits and pieces from "Dr. Strangelove" and "Public Enemy No. 1" to "Psycho" and "The Grapes of Wrath" altogether a wacky if somewhat confusing show. "A History of the American Film" is set to play through March 11.

Lakeland's WEEKEND/LEISURE

If fish isn't your favorite dish already, as it is mine...I offer to you some of my favorite recipes to try.

Fish cookery is an especially useful art to acquire because fish, although usually less expensive, has protein values at least equal or greater than the best meats and is low in calories. Helpful hint-Buy fresh!

Lemon Fish Roll-ups

These roll-ups are so attractive and delicious to serve. Chopped broccoli, cheese and rice rolled into a fresh fish fillet and baked in a lemon butter sauce. Mmm...Easy to prepare, but they look like you've spent much time in the kitchen.

1/3 cup butter 1/3 cup lemon juice
2 tsp. chicken flavor instant bouillon
1/2 tsp. Tabasco 1 cup cooked rice
1 (10 oz.) pkg. frozen, chopped broccoli, thawed
1 cup Cheddar cheese, shredded
8 fish fillets (about 2 lbs.) fresh paprika

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. In small saucepan, melt butter; add lemon juice, bouillon and Tabasco. Heat slowly until bouillon dissolves; set aside. In medium bowl, combine rice, broccoli, cheese and 1/4 cup lemon-butter sauce; mix well.

Divide broccoli mixture equally among fillets. Roll up and secure with toothpicks and place in shallow baking dish. Pour remaining sauce over roll-ups. Bake 25 minutes or until fish flakes with fork. Spoon sauce over each serving. Garnish with paprika and fresh lemon.

Creamy Fish Fillets Parmesan

Fresh flounder, sole or turbot are especially good in this recipe. The sour cream, Parmesan cheese and bread crumbs make a creamy topping for the delicate flatfish.

1-1 1/2 lbs. fresh fish fillets
1/2 tsp. salt
Freshly ground pepper to taste
3/4 cup sour cream

1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
1 1/2 Tbls. chives
1 Tbls. parsley, fresh and chopped
1/4 cup dry bread crumbs, finely crushed paprika
parsley for garnish

Wash and pat the fish fillets dry with paper towels. Arrange the fish in a buttered baking pan. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. In a medium bowl, combine sour cream, cheese, chives and bread crumbs. Spread over the fish. Dust with paprika for color. Bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes per inch of thickness of fillets. Do not over-cook. Garnish with fresh parsley and lemon wedges.

Makes 4 servings.

Elegant and Easy Salmon Steaks

Fresh salmon is such a treat; this recipe enhances it's delicate flavor. I would serve buttered asparagus or broccoli for color and a light rice pilaf along with the salmon.

6 medium salmon steaks
1/3 cup olive oil
1/2 cup parsley, chopped
1/2 tsp. dill weed
1/2 tsp. chives, chopped
1 tsp. salt
3 cloves garlic, crushed
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 Tbl. butter
1 1/2 Tbl. olive oil
6 large slices tomato

Rinse the salmon and pat dry. Place on a well-greased broiler pan. Combine 1/3 cup olive oil, parsley, dill weed, salt, garlic and bread crumbs. Mix well and set aside. Melt butter and 1 1/2 Tbl. olive oil, and brush half over the salmon steaks. Broil 4 inches from heat for 4 minutes, turn and brush with the remaining butter-oil mixture. Broil 4 minutes longer or until the salmon steaks barely begin to flake. Top with tomato slices, pack bread topping mixture on top and broil until lightly browned, about 1 to 2 minutes. Garnish with parsley and lemon slices.

Makes 6 servings.

Dog sledding in Alaska

by JIM WARNKEN
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Seeing the many snowmobiles brought out by the storm last week got me thinking about the dog sled trip I took in Alaska about this same time of the year.

Not that there is much of a comparison to a snowmobile and a dog sled. That would be like comparing fast, noisy power boats to the quietness and natural feeling of sailing. (Bet you couldn't guess I have a sailboat.) Anyway, I got somewhat the same feeling in a dog sled.

Dog sled tours are not limited to the rough, arctic adventurer types. In fact, dog sledding is almost a lazy man's way of travel. All you do is settle down into a comfortable, padded sled, wrap yourself in comfortable blankets and enjoy Alaska's unmatched scenery while your driver and dogs do the rest.

And what scenery it is! Gliding along in almost complete silence, you are surrounded by majestic white mountains, ancient blue glaciers, and wildlife everywhere!

Some tours include the opportunity to strap on snowshoes and do a little more wilderness exploring. Your seasoned guide will fill you with Alaska's long, and exciting history as well as fresh baked sourdough sandwiches and cinnamon rolls.

If you just want a taste of dog sledding, tours of as little as 30 minutes are available. For the real dog sled experience, though, I'd suggest a two night trip into McKinley Park where you'll see Alaska's most exciting country and spend the night in a real backwoods lodge.

A word to animal lovers. Anyone who knows me is aware of my concern for animals. The dogs used for these teams not only are better fed than the average pet, but in a lot of cases get more attention and love. There are no bits or any other device used to drive the dogs. You will never hear the crack of a whip. The dogs run because they enjoy it!

Lakeland tourists ready for Nashville Bash

Getting an early start on the weekend, the Lakeland Newspaper tourists will be picked up at the Holiday Inn in Gurnee, or from any of the Lakeland communities where enough people are joining the tour. You'll be transported by a deluxe motorcoach, one with air conditioning, lavatories, glareproof windows and reclining seats with plenty of leg room and overhead storage.

You're bound first for Indiana. By the time your coach is halfway down the Tri-State Expressway, you've met many of your traveling companions. You've also met the tour director, who'll be with you for the next four days, to guide, instruct and make you laugh.

You go through the Indiana farmland, driving into summer. After lunch in Indianapolis and a ride through the woods and hills of the southern part of the state, you'll cross the mighty Ohio River into Kentucky. You'll see horse farms and tobacco plantations. Kentucky bluegrass is never brighter or more lush than in spring, and even the horses know it. Watch for colts leaping and prancing just for the sheer joy of it.

The afternoon flies by and because of frequent stops for coffee, ice cream and leg stretching, you're not a bit tired. Leaving the driving to the professionals has a lot to be said for it!

At about 5 p.m., the motorcoach pulls into the Days Inn at Cave City, Tenn. where a refreshing night's sleep is in store. Don't worry about the luggage, or tipping! Your bag will be brought to your room. And tonight you'll be the guest of your tour director at a get-acquainted dinner.

The next morning, you arrive at Nashville, Tenn., Music City, USA. It will be at its best on a May morning, shining and singing, and with more to show you than you'll have time to see.

You'll see the city, go to Music Row, the famous Music Hall of Fame and Opryland with its endless attractions. On Friday, there's a dinner and show cruise aboard the General Jackson Riverboat and on Saturday, you'll be treated to a live performance of the Grand Ole Opry, featuring the best in country music. You'll spend two nights in Nashville's historic and gracious Maxwell House Hotel.

All those exciting sights and great American sound, at the affordable price of $379, and no worries about extra expenses, holiday traffic, parking, tickets, reservations. The Lakeland Newspapers Nashville Bash. Look for more details in the weeks to come, but use the coupon on this page to send for our special folder now.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

By Joyce Jillson

Weekly Tip: Many of the intangibles of life finally fall into their place this week. Be yourself.

Aries (March 21-April 19) You have secret reserves of inner strength this week. Build up financial assets. A possible move on Saturday.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) More time to spend with friends. Something exciting gets you out of your easy chair.

Gemini (May 21-June 21) Dedicate yourself to furthering your career. Joint financial matters improve. Money could be tighter.

Cancer (June 22-July 22) Could be a mind-expanding week if you set aside previous assumptions about life. Eccentric love affairs.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) A week of mergers and combined financial efforts (or it should be). Fun with talkative types.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Partners need special consideration this week, even if you have to bend over backward. Pioneer new interests.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Get in touch with your body; you feel better all the way around when you're healthy. Keep a low profile.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21) Love affairs carry an added note of romance and steamy passion. Push you ahead in your career.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Harmonious conditions at home indirectly help your career. Someone may need your forgiveness.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Take advantage of every opportunity to write or speak. Travelling is likely early in the week.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Your earning power increases. Make yourself indispensable at work. Be bold - daring.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20) This week is made to order ... doors open magically and swiftly. Avoid mad spending.

If You Were Born This Week
Happy Birthday Pisces! Gear your inspiration toward getting practical results where you can. Go for the goal. In April, you may have financial obstacles to surmount; but you can do it by giving even better service. In July, your love life can be everything you like. Investment possibilities.

CHURCH TALK

Mundelein

Faith Lutheran Church located on Rte. 60 at the intersection of Hawley St. in Mundelein, invites the public to join them as they express their love and gratitude to the Savior each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. during the Lenten season. Sunday services are held at 9 a.m. followed by Sunday School and fellowship at 10:15 a.m. An adult discussion and a youth forum are both offered at 10:30 a.m. For more information call the church office at (708) 566-8941.

Indian Creek

Janet Chalet, staff evangelist with Jews for Jesus, will present "Christ in the Passover" at Risen Savior Lutheran Church, Hwy. 45 in Indian Creek on Thursday, March 8 at 7:30 p.m. The purpose of this presentation is to enhance the Christian understanding of the New Testament by showing the Jewish background for the Communion celebration. Ancient and modern Jewish customs are discussed and described with an emphasis on the aspect of redemption that Christ accomplished at Calvary. The program is open to the general public.

Wauconda

Responding to the problem of alienation and isolation in today's fast-paced culture, Lynn Coleman trains church leaders to build effective small groups. Coleman, president of Serendipity House in Colorado and author of over 30 books, will lead a training seminar on Thursday, March 29 at the Evangelical Free Church in Wauconda, Rte. 176 and Anderson Rd., Wauconda. The seminar will focus on how to start small groups, building caring and community, and maintaining an aggressive small group in a local church. It provides a good mix of lecture with hands-in small group experiences. To register call 1(800)525-9563.

Round Lake

The World Day of Prayer will be hosted this year by Trinity Lutheran Church in Long Lake at 1 p.m. on Friday, March 2.

Each year the churches in the area gather together on the first Friday in March along with churches around the world to pray for peace and justice throughout the world. St. Joseph's Church in Round Lake will join together with Calvary Presbyterian, Round Lake Community Church, Trinity Lutheran and St. Bede's for this ecumenical service.

The theme for this year's World Day of Prayer was created by the Christian women of Czechoslovakia and is entitled "A Better Tomorrow-Justice For All."

Plan to join your neighbors for a pleasant day of friendship and refreshments after a brief worship service together at the Trinity Lutheran Church, Rte. 134 in Long Lake at 1 p.m. on Friday March 2.

Island Lake

women and men in the community are cordially invited to attend the World Day of Prayer program, which will be presented by members of Church of the Holy Apostles, Messiah Lutheran, Wauconda Federated and Transfiguration Catholic, all of Wauconda, along with First Community of Island Lake.

The Odd Couple

When Ginger met Pete, time stood still and an "old dog was taught new tricks."
Instead of relentlessly chasing a "hare raising" Pete, Ginger welcomed a new playmate. After a full day of frolicking under the Rollinsons' family feet, Pete and Ginger relax and enjoy the comfort of each others company.

Antiques & Crafts

Still possible to find antiques for bargains

Antiques from the Arts and Crafts movement are moving from unrecognizable to unaffordable but it is still possible to find bargains.

Barbra Streisand confirmed the rise in price and popularity of Arts and Crafts, according to an article in the current issue of Country Living, when she paid $363,000 in 1988 for a 10-foot-long oak sideboard that Gustav Stickley designed for his 1903 home in Syracuse, N.Y.

The Stickley sideboard was a unique piece, but a standard factory-produced Gustav Stickley Morris chair that would have sold for little more than $500 in 1980 will bring more than $5,000 in 1990.

Bookcases, china cabinets, magazine stands, footstools and box settles by any of the Big Four — Gustav Stickley, L. & J.G. Stickley, Charles Limbert and the Roycrofters — have skyrocketed.

For those more interested in the furniture than the signature, there are still bargains to be had.

One of the factors that contributed to the bankruptcy of Gustav Stickley in 1915 and the decline in popularity of Arts and Crafts furniture shortly thereafter was the flood of cheap imitations.

But there exists a number of examples of Arts and Crafts that are neither as expensive as Stickley nor as poorly designed and constructed as most of his imitators.

The challenge is to learn to distinguish the finer examples of unsigned furniture from the cheap imitations. Here is what to look for:

— The wood: Oak was the dominant material of Arts and Crafts manufacturers and quartersawn board the oak of choice. Nicknamed

"tiger oak," it is less apt to warp or split than plain-sawn oak but is more expensive to make. Unsigned furniture made with quartersawn oak deserves consideration.

— Construction: Makers of high-quality Arts and Crafts furniture pegged key joints. A smaller number incorporated exposed tenons into their joints although not even Gustav Stickley employed exposed tenons in all his furniture. When it is found it is coveted as a sign of high-quality design and workmanship. Look out for fake tenons.

— The arch: A few fine designers sometimes added an arched toeboard to a bookcase or china cabinet, an arched apron on a footstool or chair, or arched or bowed arms on a Morris chair.

— Slats and stretchers: For slats, the rule is the more, the better. Five slats across the back of a chair are better than two and a row of slats under each arm can mean the difference between a common Morris chair and an exciting one. With stretchers, the wider, the better.

— The hardware: Gustav Stickley formed his own metal shop where craftsmen hand-hammered heavy copper and iron pulls. Most others purchased hardware from specialized companies. High-quality hardware is as important as a pegged joint or exposed tenon.

— The signature: Several manufacturers of respectable Arts and Crafts furniture followed the lead of the Big Four and affixed a decal or paper label to their products.

Among the firms that have begun to attract the attention of collectors are Stickley Brothers in Grand Rapids, Lifetime, Harden, Charles Stickley, Larkin, S. Karpen, Plail Brothers and the Michigan Chair Co.

These Stickleys are related to, but not to be confused with, two Stickleys in the Big Four.

The hand-thrown and hand-decorated pottery of the period has become astronomically priced, but the molded pottery from Hampshire, Weller, Roseville, Teco, Clewell, Niloak and post-1920 Van Briggles often can be found for less than $100.

The most affordable examples of Arts and Crafts workmanship are textiles, with hand-embroidered table linens priced between $10 and $15. Consider framing pristine examples, for most are legitimate works.

Papier-mache animals provide pop art zoo

Building grand-scale, papier-mache animals on strong frames can give one their own pop art zoo. Start off with a sturdy wood and chicken wire frame. A unicorn can be started out as a sawhorse, a kangaroo has a sort of tripod frame and an alligator skeleton can be made from a chicken wire frame. The wire frames can be molded and bent to form jaws, ears, camel's humps and tails.

To give an animal a smooth coat, cover the chicken wire with a layer of aluminum foil. Over this, apply for or five layers of newspaper strips soaked in flour-and-water paste. Model the creature's shape as you work.

It will take several days for the animal to dry. Then you can paint them with acrylics or poster paint to look cheerful or wild or mean. To protect the paint add a coat of nontoxic varnish.

Antioch, Panthers impressive in reaching final

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch boys basketball Coach Jeff Dresser had his team practice three offenses to get ready for the Class AA regional game against Grant.

"We practiced three offenses, but went with a fourth," a happy Dresser said following his team's 71-47 romp over the Bulldogs. The win puts Antioch, 10-17 into the March 2 title game against Round Lake, which easily downed Grayslake 54-43 in the first regional game Tuesday. Game time for the regional final, with a trip to the Palatine Fremd sectional at stake, is 7:30 p.m.

"We've been shooting poorly as late. Our shots selection has been good, but they have not been falling. We practiced a lot on shooting drills and it paid off," Dresser said.

Grant stayed with the home team through 14 minutes before Antioch pulled away in the end of the second quarter and had a 22-5 third quarter explosion.

Hot shooting Jeff Becker led Antioch with 20 points, including three three-pointers. On several other occasions, he passed the ball off to open teammates, allowing several Antioch players to get into the scoring column. Guard Steve Manderscheid contributed a strong game with 14 points and forward had 11 points.

Antioch, showing the fast-paced style which would bury the Rte. 59 rivals, scored five points to start the game. Grant took a 6-5 lead on a bucket by Steve Maiworm, the only Grant player to tally in double figures with 11 points.

Two Becker hoops, the second a three-point effort, gave the Sequoits a 10-7 lead.

In the second quarter, Antioch, despite four turnovers in the final few minutes, led 14-10 after one.

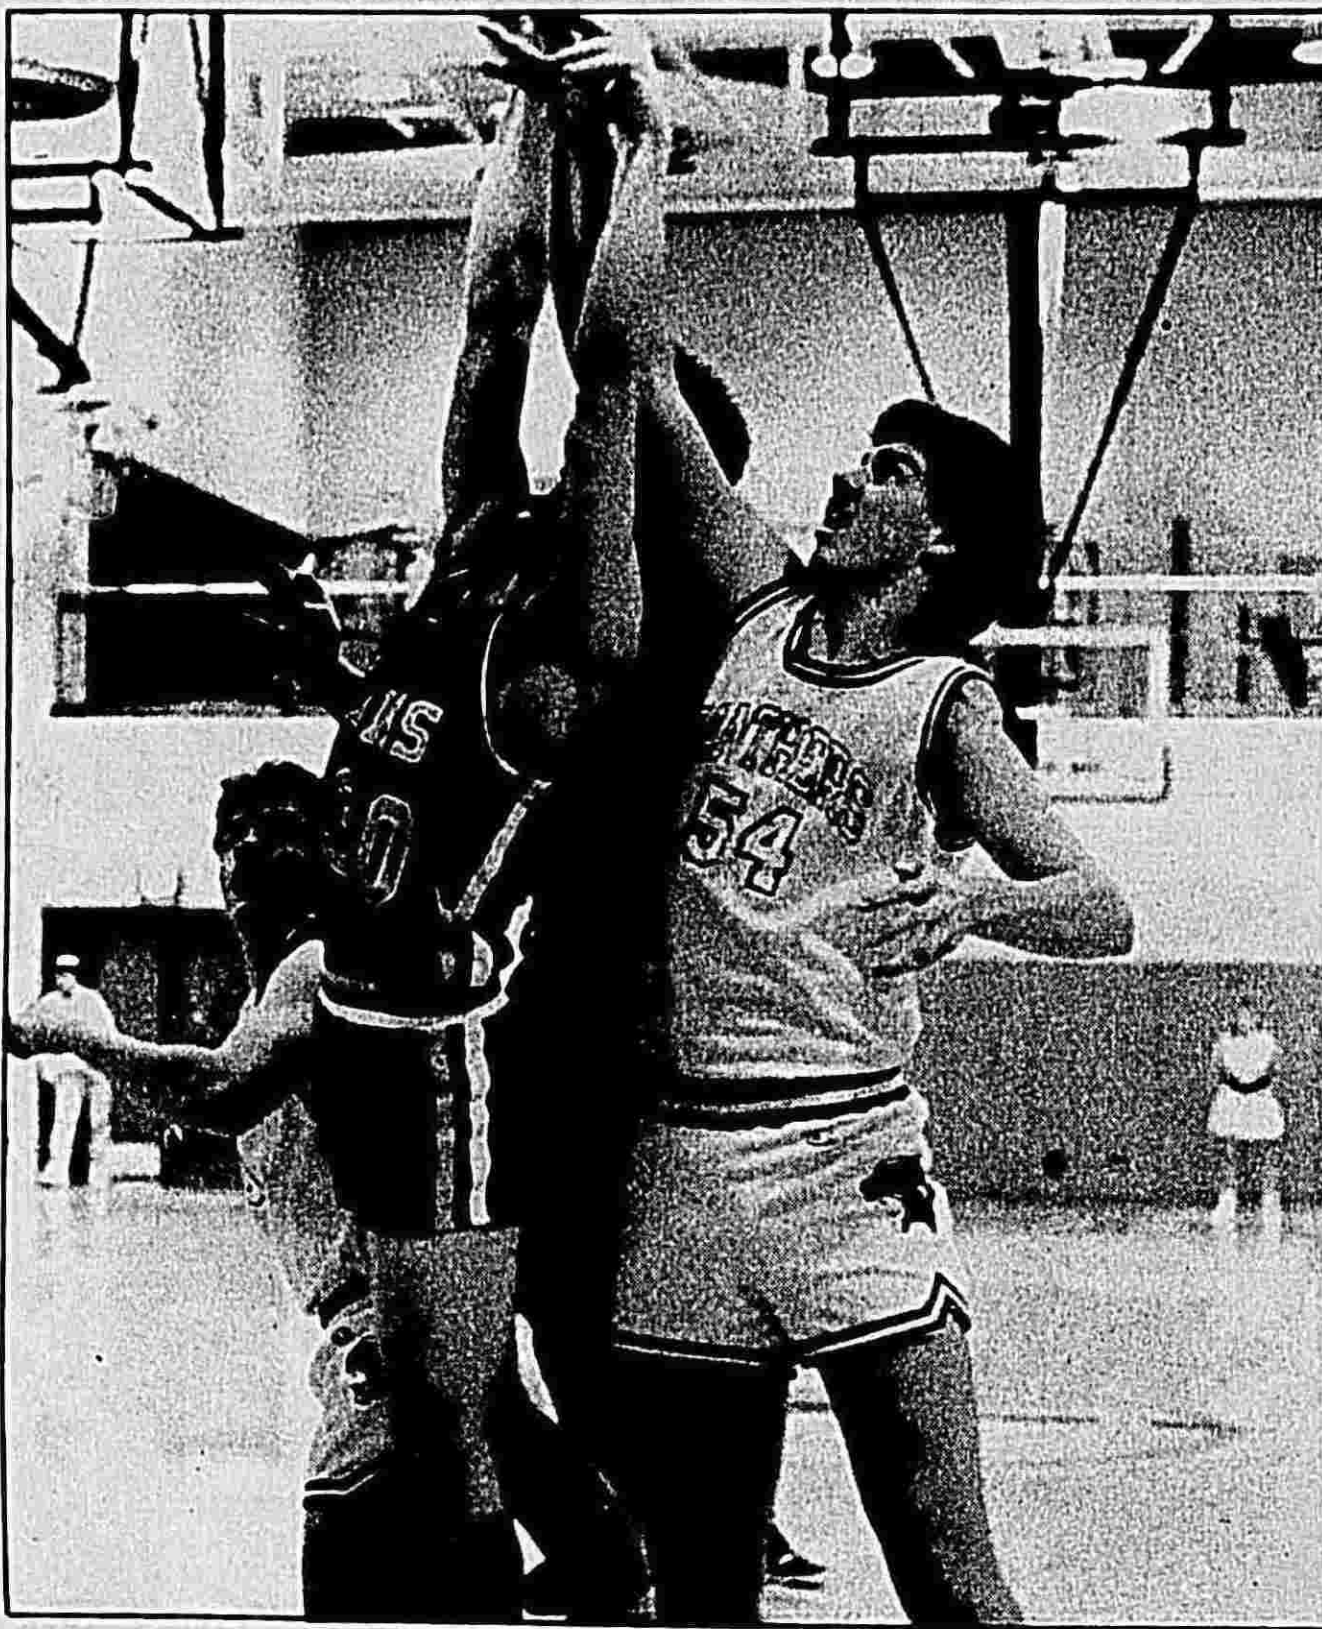

Antioch built a 19-11 cushion in the second stanza, only to see Grant, 10-16, have a 7-1 run of its own.

A baseline jumper by Walker then ignited Antioch. That was followed by a buzzer-beater from half court by Carl Galdine for a 27-22 halftime lead.

That sent Antioch to its 22-5 run. Grant trailed 50-27 when Mike Warren hit a free throw just before the end of the third quarter. Antioch finished the stanza nine-for-17 from the field, while Grant was two-for-10 with seven turnovers.

The Antioch subs did not miss a beat in the fourth quarter, as senior center Scott Rojas scored six points.

Rebound clash

Grayslake's Nathan Roberts (30) battles with Round Lake's Scott Hall (54) for rebound in Class AA regional action Tuesday at Antioch. Round Lake won 54-43 to advance to final against home Sequoits March 2. Winner of that game moves on to Palatine Fremd sectional March 7. - Photo by Steve Young.

Panthers start fast, hold on

When the Grayslake - Round Lake Class AA regional boys basketball game began Tuesday night, an hour remained before the Bulls and Bucks were to tip-off on TV.

And the way Round Lake started the contest, it appeared the Panthers were on a mission to give the fans a choice. With Round Lake ahead by 18 points at halftime, fans could choose to stick around for the second half or get home in time for the second quarter of the NBA game.

Those who chose the second option were able to see a gusty rally by the Rams, which cut a 21 point lead down to six. But the Panthers, winners of their last six games, were able to use one of their strengths to pull away in the fourth quarter.

"The first half was as good a half as I've seen since I've been here," a happy Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said.

The win gave Ward and Co. a third 20-win campaign. The Panthers battle host Antioch, easy 71-47 winners over Grant in the regional's second game, March 2 in the regional final. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The Panthers may have had their fans confused they were the team on TV in the opening quarter. Taylor Fiene, who led the team with 11 points, started Round Lake going toward a seven-for-nine shooting spree from the field. A bucket by Mike Bragg gave Round Lake a 16-4 domination to start.

Round Lake led 27-6 at one point on a three-pointer.

Fourth quarter scuffle mars Grant, RL contest

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

When it comes to publically critiquing referees, most basketball coaches would prefer to keep their comments to fellow coaches and practices as opposed to telling reporters after the game.

But not Grant Coach Tom Maple.

Maple was whistled for a technical foul in the fourth quarter of Round Lake's 60-53 win over Grant at home last Friday.

"I told the referee that they would go back into the locker room and tell each other they each had a great game," Maple said.

That incident happened with 5:04 left with Round Lake pulling away to a 15 point lead.

Then four minutes later, the headline-grabbing event happened. It started with a push and shoving match involving Grant's 5-9 Steve Maiworm and Round Lake's 6-6 Scott Hall. It ended with both benches emptying, a Grant manager with a cut lip and fans coming onto the floor, striking the players.

"They saw the second and third fouls all night," Maple said of the officiating.

The Grant mentor, whose team ended the regular season 10-15, 7-7 in the Northwest Suburban Conference, called for greater courage to call the fouls in the paint in rough games such as whenever Grant-

Round Lake tangle.

"It takes a courageous official to call the fouls in the lane. The perimeter fouls are easy," Maple said.

Round Lake Coach Bob Ward, whose team secured second place in the NWSC with a 9-5 league record with the win, said gave his team a message after the melee with 1:13 remaining.

"I told the kids to come straight to the locker room after the game," Ward said.

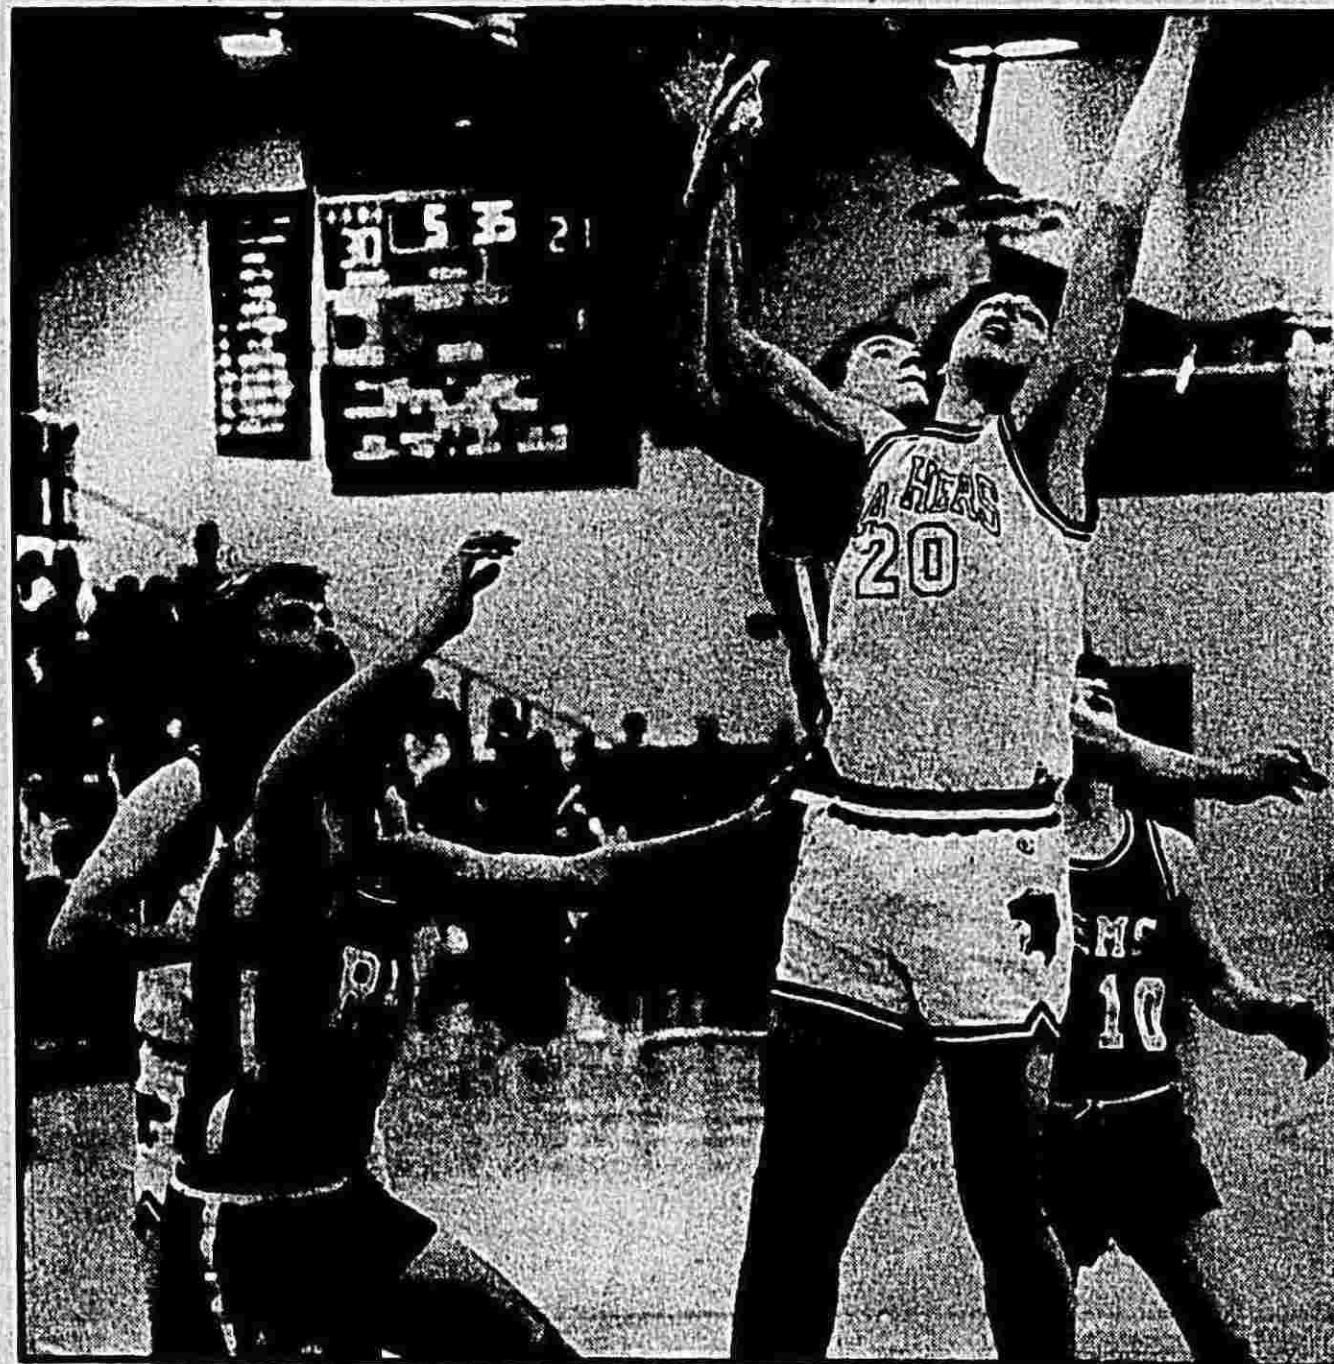

"It is a shame because this is a great rivalry and this mars it for both Round Lake and Grant," Ward said.

The two player involved in the beginning were ejected, an ironic ending to Hall's career in the Round Lake gym. But there were no fouls called, no free throws attempted and the final 73 seconds was played peacefully.

Fortunately for the safety of all, the Round Lake policeman and school officials made sure there were no after-game incidents. Two fans were identified as those who rushed onto the court were reported to respective athletic directors.

The game itself was a testimony to the Round Lake defense, which turned the tide in a 14-2 run in the second half.

Grant led 23-21 at halftime, as the two teams struggled on offense (a combined 17-for-52, 33 percent).

Burton seeks rebound

CLC women end regular season with loop wins

The College of Lake County's women's basketball team finished the regular season with two wins last week but only had to play one game.

The Lancers entered sectional play with a 7-15 overall record, 7-7 in the Skyway Conference following a 68-43 win over Wright at CLC.

The Lancers featured a balanced scoring attack as Teri Huntington led with 13 points, Crystal Payne and Sue Spiller had 12, Jessica Elsner had 11 and Kelly Doyle had 10 points.

CLC took an early lead in the first half, ahead 36-21 at halftime.

The Lancers won by forfeit last Thursday as Morton did not have a team, enabling CLC to finish with a .500 league record.

CLC had to overcome a poor free-throw shooting McHenry 57-50 and night, as the home team Waubesa. missed eight of 10.

EYE CARE
News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes
By
Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery
QUESTION: What is after-cataract surgery?
ANSWER: A cataract is the clouding of the eye's natural lens which is located in what is called the lens capsule. Using modern surgical techniques the clouded lens is removed from the eye while leaving the back of the lens capsule intact. Normally the lens is replaced with a very small, plastic lens that is placed in the eye during the surgery.
During the months or years after this surgery, the back of the natural lens capsule may also become clouded. This is a normal occurrence and is not a cataract growing back. To correct this condition, a laser beam is used to open a small hole in the lens capsule to let uninterrupted light into the eye. No stitches or hospitalization is required and vision usually improves immediately.

Maloney, Carmel shock 'Cats in regional clash

By BRENT KILLACKY
Lakeland Newspapers

Donning homemade signs that pervaded the air with pungent odor of fresh, permanent marker, Carmel assistant Coach Tom Ragen flashed the defensive position numbers to the players on the floor.

The gymnasium was packed as the Carmel Corsairs played Libertyville Wildcats in the first game of the regional basketball tournament. Coach Ragen's signs proved useful because it would be almost impossible to think over the cheering fans, let alone hear the coach calling out the play numbers.

And it was in switching from nine different defenses that Carmel, 14-12, was able to beat Libertyville, 23-, 63-56.

With :59 on the clock, however, it did not look comfortable for Carmel or Libertyville. The Wildcats were behind 57-56 when they fouled Eric Maloney (who was nine-for-nine in free throws). Maloney led the game in scoring with 23 points.

In a one-and-one situation, Maloney proceeded to sink both baskets.

"I wasn't really nervous," Maloney said. "I just tried to block out the crowd."

Libertyville lost its chance to comeback when Shawn Stanek (13 points, five-for-five from the free-throw line), missed a crucial shot that was rebounded by David Montgomery. In the next 10 seconds, the Corsairs were fouled three times. Dan Gramm missed the first free throw, but Maloney rebounded and scored. The other free throws were successful by Montgomery and Maloney, pushing Carmel ahead 61-52 with 10 seconds on the clock. Sean Ryan had the final free throw.

The Carmel victory, however, was hard-fought throughout the entire game. Libertyville took a 16-11 first quarter lead, scoring a stunningly quick 12 points to a CHS mere four points in the opening five minutes. Stanek scored two three-point shots in those opening minutes.

The Wildcats continued to hold their lead in the first half and went into the locker room ahead 34-27.

Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg, was not really worried by this Libertyville lead. "Once the first three or four minutes were done, I thought we were going to be OK," he said.

It was in the second half when Carmel up the heat.

In the locker room, Rosberg said to the players that "they need to remain poised and patient and understand that things will be all right if they stay together".

For more than six minutes, Carmel held Libertyville scoreless from the field, giving up only two points in free throws. At the same time, Carmel's offense wrapped up nine unanswered points.

"They just played tough in the second half," said Libertyville coach Max Sanders. "Our biggest mistake was we kept letting people penetrate in our defense. They really hurt us inside."

"But that's the way we have been all year. The teams with really good inside games have given us trouble."

Carmel senior Maloney tied up the game 34-34 with 5:07 left in the third quarter on two free throws.
